This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION

This volume, being part II of Lancashire Inquests, Extents, Feudal Aids, Rentals, &c., contains abstracts of documents XC to CLXX, and covers the period from 1310 to 1333, during which many events of striking interest in the history of the county came to pass. In February, 1311, died the great earl of Lincoln, Henry de Lacy, lord of Pontefract, Clitheroe, Tottington, Penwortham, and Widnes, constable of Chester and lord of Halton in that county. The inquest (pp. 2-19) taken after his death contains much interesting information touching the tenures of the manors belonging to the honour of Clitheroe and of the issues of the manors which belonged to the earl's demesne.

A rental (pp. 22-32) of the demesne lands of earl Thomas of Lancaster in the hundreds of Amounderness and Lonsdale for the year ending at Michaelmas, 1314, contains matter illustrating the issues and produce of the earl's possessions in North Lancashire. The paragraph within square brackets on p. 32 is out of place ; it should have followed the inquest after the death of the earl of Lincoln (p. 19) to which it refers.

The extent (pp. 48-75) of the manor of Manchester made in 1322 is a document of extraordinary interest. It is unfortunate that the original return does not exist, and that the five copies or abstracts which have been preserved to our time have been made from ancient copies which were more or less corrupt. Nor were the transcribers expert or critical in the work of copying the ancient transcripts. The result follows that many readings are more or less uncertain, whereby the value of this important record is seriously impaired. Perhaps the best course to adopt would be to reproduce in the original but extended law Latin a revised version based upon the best MSS., and to record all important variants in footnotes. It is probable that in the translated version given in this volume we have two distinct surveys. For the purpose of enabling the reader to follow the details of these two returns, if they be such, the matter under the same headings is brought into context and printed in two sizes of type. No résumé of this survey can be given in an introduction with any advantage to the reader, but the student of social and economic history will find matter in the record repaying a very close and critical examination.

The events of the stirring year 1322 are illustrated in two very important rentals (pp. 75-132 and 167-219) of the lands which passed to the crown by the attainder of earl Thomas and his powerful favourite Robert de Holand, as the sequel of the eventful battle of Boroughbridge. With the first of these two rentals the editor has thought it expedient to give step by step an abstract of a feodary which although undated clearly belongs to the same date. Fortunately the original of the former document, as returned to the treasury by Simon de Balderston, is still preserved in the Public Record Office. Of the feodary — incorrectly quoted by the historians of the county as the Birch Feodary — several copies have been preserved which may be described as fairly satisfactory versions of the original, although sometimes showing signs of alteration of the names of persons for use as a feodary at a later date than 1322, and with the names of persons and places altered in the spelling to suit the fancy of the 17th century copyists.

The second of the two rentals (pp. 167-219) has been printed from an abstract of the original record, known as the Contrariant Roll, made by the late Miss E. M. Walford. The rental for the year ending at Michaelmas, 1324, has been selected as giving fuller details than those for the same terms in 1323, 1325 and 1326, but all important details of information from those rolls differing from that for 1324 have been added in the notes. The advantage to the student of local history in possessing such a series of rentals of the comital demesnes for the latter years of Edward II cannot be over estimated. They throw much light upon the economic and industrial progress of the county, and illustrate to an admirable extent the gradual change to a condition of greater freedom of tenure and higher social condition brought about by the reduction of the wastes and woodlands to cultivation and enclosure by natives, bondmen and villeins. From these and similar records of later date may be traced the birth, childhood and youth of the race of copyhold and customary tenants which long formed a characteristic feature of the hilly regions of eastern and northern Lancashire.

The volume contains several inquests taken after the death of tenants holding lands by chivalry, serjeanty and socage, but the fictitious values returned in this class of record rob them of the interest attaching to rentals drawn up with strict and careful regard for the truth for transmission to the officers of the crown. It is a source of disappointment that the labours of many County Record Societies are devoted too much to the editing of documents mainly of service to the genealogist whilst those which illustrate social and economic growth are too often neglected. On these grounds the editor deems it unneccessary to make any apology for the inclusion of several rentals in a volume nominally intended to be devoted to abstracts of post mortem inquests only.

The editor's acknowledgments are due to Professor Tait for advice and assistance in the translation of the extent of the manor of Manchester. The index to the volume has been prepared by Mrs. Easton of Cheadle.

ADDENDA ET CORRIGENDA

In part I of Lancashire Inquest and Extents (Lancashire and Cheshire Record Society, Vol. XLVIII) the following paragraph should be added to page 93, between l. 28 and l. 29—

The lord king gave Kertmel [Cartmel] to William the Marshall and he gave it to the canons of Bredenestoe [Bradenstoke, co. Wilts] in alms, namely, 9 ploughlands, whereof they have the said William's charter and the confirmation of the lord king and his ancestors.

This refers to the foundation of Cartmel Priory by William Marshall.

XC. GEOFFREY SON OF ADAM DE WHYTINGHAM.

[3 EDW. II., No. 11.]

WRIT dated at Woodstock, 7 May, 3rd year (1310) directed to John de Hothum, escheator beyond Trent, "because Geoffrey son of Adam de Whytingham, whose lands and tenements by reason of his idiocy are in the king's hand, has closed the last day" etc.

Inquest taken before the escheator at Preston in Amunderness, on Friday in Whitweek, 3 Edward I [12 June, 1310] by Thomas de Ingolheued, Roger de Cumberhalgh, Adam son of John son of Bymme, Adam de Etheliswyk, John de Cotum, Robert de Heskyn, Thomas de Adelyngton, William del Erlisgate, and William de Faryngton, who say that by reason of the idiocy of the said Geoffrey one manor in Whetyngham with the appurtenances is in the king's hand, and one messuage and 4 acres of land in Ecliston in Laylandshyre, and the rent of 20*s*. yearly arising from lands and tenements in Preston in Ammunderness, which Lawrence Travers, Adam son of Agnes, Robert son of Adam, and Roger le Taillour, hold freely in that town by the service of 20*s*. and fealty; that none of the premises are held of the king in chief, but the manor, except one messuage, is held of John de Whetyngham by homage and fealty, and the service of 4*d*. yearly, the said messuage in the same manor is held of the hospital of St. John of Jerusalem by fealty and the service of 2*s*. 10*d*. yearly, the said messuages and lands in Ecliston in Laylandshyre of Sir Adam de Walton by fealty and the service of 8*d*. yearly, the said rent of 20*s*. in Preston in Amunderness of Thomas, earl of Lancaster, by fealty and the service of 12*d*. yearly. The whole of the premises are worth £7 11*s*. 9*d*. yearly in all issues. Alice the wife of John de Singelton and Margery, sisters of the said Geoffrey, and Margery daughter of Christiana, formerly sister of Alice and Margery, are his next heirs, and all of full age.

[4 EDW. II., No. 82.]

Inquest taken at Wakerle, 20 September, 4 Edward II [1310]. The jury say that it is not to the damage etc. if the king grant to John la Ware that he should have again, and hold to himself and his heirs the manor of Wakerle, co. Northampton, which he acquired of Thomas Grelle, who held it of the king in chief, without the king's license, on which occasion it was taken into the king's hands. Also if the said John grant the said manor to the said Thomas for the life of the said Thomas, with reversion to the said John to hold to him and his heirs of the king. [Extent given] Item. There remain to the said Thomas for the term of his life by fine levied between the said John and Thomas, beyond the gift aforesaid, the manor of Swyneshed, co. Lincoln, and the manor of Mancestre, co. Lancaster, both held of the earl of Lancaster by knight's service. Fee unknown.

XCII. HENRY DE LACY, EARL OF LINCOLN. Inq. p. m.

[4 EDW. II., No. 51.]

WRIT of diem clausit extremum tested at Berwick-on-Tweed, 6 February 4th year.

Inquest taken before Robert de Woodhouses, escheator this side Trent, at Clitheroe, co. Lancaster, on 26 February, 4 Edward II [1311] by the oath of Hugh de Clitherowe, John de Knowle, Henry de Dunham, Simon de Alvetham, Nicholas Deuyas, Ralph de Claton, Adam de Clough, Robert de Holden, Robert de Rishton, John de Clayton, William de Thorpe, John Bannestre de Banke, Thomas de Leland, Robert de Bradshaw, Elias de Entwissell and Ralph de Denton, jurors, to inquire of what lands and tenements Henry de Lassye, late earl of Lincoln, was seised in his demesne as of fee within the said county on the day he died, of whom he held immediately, by what service and how much worth yearly in all issues, who is his next heir and of what age : Who say upon their oath that the earl held no lands, tenements or fees of the king in chief within co. Lancaster on the day he died ; but they say that he held all his lands and tenements in the county of Thomas, earl of Lancaster, immediately, by the service of 14 knights' fees and the third part of a knight's fee, and by £5 5*s.* 8*d.* to be rendered yearly for the ward of Lancaster Castle at Michaelmas, and 28*s.* to be rendered for a fee called Le Sakfe at the same feast, and by doing suit to the County [court] from six weeks to six weeks as below is more fully declared. They also say that lord Edward, formerly king of England, father of the now king, in the 22nd year of his reign granted and by charter confirmed to the said earl of Lincoln all the under-written tenements to be held to him and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten of the lords of whatsoever fees, either of the king himself or of others, by the services by which the same earl of Lincoln held before the surrender made by the said earl to the king without increment or detriment, and if the earl should die without heir of his body lawfully begotten the same lands and tenements should remain to Thomas, son of Edmund, the king's brother and to Alice his wife, daughter of the same earl of Lincoln and to the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten, to hold of the chief lords of the fee by the services therefor due and accustomed; and if the same Thomas and Alice should die without heir of their bodies lawfully begotten, the same tenements with the appurtenances should wholly remain to the right heirs of the same Thomas and to their heirs to hold of the chief lords of the fee for ever [1]; and by such estate and form the same earl of Lincoln was seised of the under-written tenements on the day he died, to wit—[2]

At Clidrehowe [Clitheroe] there is a castle with moat and ditch, which are nothing worth by the year beyond repairs; an orchard beneath the castle with a croft, whereof the herbage with the fruit are yearly worth 2*s.*; 20*a.*[3] of land of the demesne lands demised to divers tenants at will whereof each acre renders yearly 4*d.* Sum 6*s.* 8*d.*; 4½ a. of meadow yearly worth 3*s.*, price of the acre 8*d.*; a water mill worth yearly £6 13*s.* 4*d.* beyond repairs; a fair on the feast of St. Mary Magdalene, whereof the tolls with other perquisites are yearly worth 6*s.* 8*d.*; toll of Clidrehowe, Blakeburn and Bowland is yearly worth 93*s.* 4*d.*; 20*a.* and 3*r.* of land of the demesne, which R. XCIV. ROBERT DE SNELLESHOU.

[COUCHER OF WHALLEY, CHETHAM SOC., O.S. VOL. X, p. 280].

Mandate from Thomas, earl of Lancaster, to Robert de Shireburn, seneschal of Blakeburnshire, touching the lands and tenements of Snelleshou.

Inquest taken in the court of Cliderhou, on Wednesday next before the Epiphany, 6 Edward [II, 3 January, 1313], before Robert de Shireburn, by Master Henry de Dounum, Robert de Holden, Bernard del Hakking, Adam del Clogh, Henry de Bradhull, John del Holt, Henry de Henthorn, William son of Henry de Cliderhou, Adam son of Elias de Wysewell; who say that one Robert de Snelleshou, grandfather of Thomas, son of Thomas, did not die seised of the lands and tenements of Snelleshou, because he previously sold the same to Sir Peter de Cestria, to hold of the church of Whalley; that after the death of the said Peter the earl of Lincoln's bailiffs seised those tenements into the earl's hand; that after the earl of Lincoln's death they passed into the seisin of the present earl of Lancaster; that Thomas son of Thomas is next heir in blood of the said Robert and is by right bound to receive one penny or a pair of gloves yearly from those tenements according to the form of Robert's gift; that Peter de Cestria died without heir because he was a bastard and the earl entered into the premises but only in order to preserve the right of everyone concerned.[2]

[1] This list of fees should be compared with the knights' fees which contributed to the aid of 1302. See vol. 48, p. 312-319; and with the names of those distrained to do homage to the king in 1322-3, given below. See also Baines, Hist. of Lancs., (ed. Harland) I, app. iii, 692-3.

WRIT dated at Westminster, 26 May, 11th year (1318), directed to the sheriff of Lancaster.

Inquest taken at Hagh, on Monday next after Midsummer, 11 Edward II [26 June, 1318], before the sheriff of Lancaster, by Richard de Ines, William Gelibrond, John de (sic) Laurence, Richard de Wolston, Richard del Heye, John son of the said Richard, William de Ashton, Roger de Walmereslegh, Henry de Notehogh (?), Robert de le (?) Bothes, Roger de Shotelesworth, and John le Jeu, to inquire whether the manors of Hagh and Blakerode which William de Bradeshagh, who was outlawed for felony, held, were in the king's hands for a year and a day, &c. They say that Edmund de Nevill, then sheriff of Lancaster, seized the said manors into the king's hands and demised them to Peter de Lymisey, upon whose seisin Mabel de Hagh intruded herself; the manors are held of Sir Robert de Holand, who is mesne tenant, and the said Peter and Mabel had a year and a day and ought to answer to the king therefor [1].

Similar writ dated at Northampton 4 July, 11th year (1318), directed to the sheriff of Lancaster.

Inquest taken at Hagh, on Wednesday next after the feast of St. Peter ad Vincula, 11 Edward II [2 August 1318] before Sir Henry de Dalton, sheriff of Lancaster, by . . . . . , Henry de Pemberton, William de Ashton, John de Pemberton, William. . . . . , John . . . . . , Richard del Rylondes, Robert de Pennelbury . . . . . .

To inquire &c. They say &c. [as above].

[1] To the sheriff of Lancaster. Order to cause Robert de Holand to have seisin of the manors of Haghe and Blakerode, as is appears by inquest taken by the sheriff that William de Bradeshagh, who was outlawed for felony, held them of Robert, and that they have been in the king's hands for a year and a day, and that Peter de Lymesy and Mabel his wife have had the king's year, day and waste thereof, and ought to answer for the same. Northampton, 3 July, 11th year (1318). Cal. Close R., 1313-8, p. 554; 1318-23, p. 8.

CII. THOMAS, EARL OF LANCASTER. Inq. a. q. d.

WRIT dated at Northampton, 2 July, 11th year (1318), directed to Robert de Sapy, escheator beyond Trent.

Inquest taken at Cliderhou, on Thursday in the feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, 12 Edward II [14 September, 1318], by Master Henry de Dounome, Adam del Clogh, William de Heryz, Henry Moton, Richard son of Henry de Cliderhou, Richard de Bradeley, John de Mitton, John del Holt, John son of Elias de Reued, Henry de Henthorne, Hugh de Cleyton, and John son of Richard son of Robert de Cliderhou; who say that it is not to the injury of the king or others, if the king should grant to his cousin Thomas, earl of Lancaster, that the moiety of the manor of Byllyngton, which Adam de Hudeleston holds for life, of the said earl's inheritance, shall after the death of the said Adam, remain to the abbot and convent of Whalley and their successors in perpetuity. Adam held the said moiety by the gift of Henry de Lascy, earl of Lincoln, for the term of his life, for his good service, and renders nothing yearly. The earl of Lincoln held the same of the earl of Lancaster, by the service of the 60th part of one knight's fee; and the earl of Lancaster holds it of the king in chief by the said service. The said moiety is worth yearly in all issues 66*s.* 8*d.* There is no mesne tenant between the king and the earl[1].

CIII. MARGARET DE NEVILL.

[12 EDW. II. No. 41.]

WRIT dated at York, 20 Feb. 12th year (1319), directed to Ralph de Crophull, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken at Hornby, before Ralph de Crophull, escheator, on the 4 April, 12 Edward II [1319] by Hugh son of Gilbert, Benedict de Eskerig, Adam son of Richard, Henry son of John, Benedict son of Robert, Gilbert le Taylour, William son of Ralph de Hornby, John Barebeg, Adam Quytling, John Whelpp, Adam son of Adam de Melling, and Richard Suanball, who say that Margaret de Nevill on the day of her death held nothing in chief of the king within the county of Lancaster, but she held in her demesne as of fee the castle of Hornby with the appurtenances, of Thomas, earl of Lancaster, by knight's service as of the honor of Lancaster; at Hornby there is a castle, within which there is one acre of land, but the castle renders nothing because it stands in much need of repair. There are in demesne 200 acres of arable land, each acre worth 6*d.* yearly. Sum £5.

Also in demesne 25 acres of meadow, each acre worth 10*d.* yearly. Sum 20*s.* 10*d.*

There are 6 vaccaries, each worth 20*s.* yearly. Sum £6.

And 2 parks, the one worth 13*s.* 4*d.* and the other 10*s.* yearly; A water mill worth £5 yearly, a fulling mill worth 6*s.* 8*d.* yearly; a court Baron worth 40*s.* yearly, and another court of the borough of Hornby worth 8*s.* 8*d.* yearly. There are 47½ burgages in the hands of divers tenants, each rendering 4*d.* yearly.
Sum 15*s.* 10½*d.*

At Melling within the honor of the castle of Hornby [1] there are 8 oxgangs of land, each worth 12*s.* yearly.
Sum 96*s.*

Thomas de Wraton holds freely the hamlet of Wraton and 2 oxgangs of land in the town of Wenington, rendering yearly at the feasts of Pentecost and St. Martin, 48*s.* 8*d.*, and doing suit at the 3 weeks court of Hornby; John de Hornby, senior, holds the manor of Farlton with the appurtenances, by knight's service and suit at the said court of Hornby; Gilbert de Wenington holds the manor of Wenington by knight's service, rendering yearly at the feasts of Pentecost and St. Martin 3*s.* 7*d.*, and suit at the said court of Hornby; William de Tunstal holds the manor of Tunstal by fealty and the service of 17*s.* 4*d.* at the feasts of Pentecost and St. Martin by equal portions and suit at the said court of Hornby; Sir John de Haverington holds the moiety of the manor of Cannsfeld in fee by homage and knight's service.

In the town of Erghun [Arkholme] there are 23 messuages, 18½ oxgangs and 130 acres of arable land in the hands of divers free tenants [holding] in fee. Also 3 messuages, 1 oxgang and 32 acres of land in the hands of divers tenants [holding] for term of years. Which free tenants and tenants for term of years render yearly at the feasts of Pentecost and St. Martin £15. and 20*d.* by equal portions. In the town of Wra there are 20 tofts,

[1] This is repeated after each place mentioned.

16 oxgangs of land, and 76 acres of land and meadow, in the hands of divers tenants, who render yearly at the feasts aforesaid by equal portions £9. 18*s.* 10*d.*

They say that John, son of John de Nevill, is next heir of the said Margaret, and he was of the age of 18 years at the feast of St. Andrew the Apostle last past [1].

Sum total £60 and 22½*d.* [2].

CIV. THE PREACHING FRIARS OF LANCASTER.

Inq. a. q. d.

[12 EDW. II. No. 5.]

WRIT dated at York, 8 May, 12th year (1319), directed to Ralph de Crophull, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken at Lancaster before Ralph de Crophull, escheator, on Saturday next after the Ascension of our Lord, 12 Edward II [19 May, 1319], by Roger de Slene, Ranulph Gentyl, Robert de Catherton, Adam de Urswyke, Adam son of Simon, Robert de Skerton, John Cottun, Ralph Walker, Adam Purser, John Porter, John Merser, and William Ledebeter; who say that it would not be to the prejudice or injury of the king or others if the king should grant licence to the preaching friars of Lancaster, to retain to them and their successors in perpetuity, two acres of land in Lancaster, which they acquired from Master Thomas de Kirkeham, without the king's license, after the Statute of Mortmain was enacted, for the enlargement of their manse there. The said two acres are held in fee of Thomas, earl of Lancaster, and belong to the community of the said town and no service is rendered therefor to the earl or any other person, because it is free and acquitted from all service; and the land is worth yearly in all issues, 2*s.* at Easter and Michaelmas by equal portions [3].

[1] Margaret de Nevill died 19 February, 1319. On 28 May following the king by fine of £100 made with Robert de Holand granted to him the custody of the castle of Hornby with the members, in co. Lanc., the manor of Geirgrave, lands and tenements in Kirkeby, Grymston, Milleford and Poterton, co. York, which belonged to the said Margaret, to hold during the minority of her grandson (nepos) John de Nevill. Escheator's Accts., 3-20.

[2] The extent adds to £60. 1*s.* 5½*d.*

[3] On 1 May, 1319, the escheator seized into the king's hand 2 acres of land in Lancastre by reason of the trespass of the brethren of the order of preaching friars in Lancastre in acquiring the same from Mr. Thomas de Kirkeham and entering upon the

CV. EXTENT OF THE GLEBE LANDS OF BOLTON LE SANDS. c. 1320.

[CHESTER EPISCOPAL REGIST., BRIDGEMAN.]

EXTENT OF THE MANOR AND CHURCH OF BOLTON.[1] — There was a manor [house] there sufficient for the lord archdeacon, but the house thereof is greatly in need of repair; the fruit of the garden with herbs is estimated at 18*d*, and used to be worth 10*s*. 4*d*. Sum 18*d*.

There are in demesne 8 score and 7*a*. 3½*r*. of arable land: the perch of 20 feet: worth yearly 87*s*. 10½*d*, price of the acre 12*d*, besides the garden; but the acre used to be demised for 15*d*; the lands lie in the following places: in the croft abutting upon the manor 2½*a*; in Gelonys 6½*a*; at Slingtress 3½*a*; in Hungry Flat 9*a*; at Rigarsemerild 2½*a*; in Inglebecke in le Crokedale 4½*a*. of poor land; in Lea Walles 2*a*. at the head; in Inglebreche 3*r*; at Wardegreves 3*r*; at Wicklands 2*a*. 1*r*; in the culture called Le Wra 26*a*; at Rameshout 4*a*; at Snelith 3½*a*; at Breton [or Brecou] 9*a*; at Stanland 3*a*; in Brendland 2½*a*. ½*r*; at Le Henkdys 1*a*. 1*r*.; and ½*a*. abutting upon Wragreve; at Cowhilstand 3*a*; in Gunkell 3*r*.

Sum of acres 87*a*. 3½*r*.; sum of money 87*s*. 10½*d*; but they used to be demised for £5 9*s*., namely 15*d*. the acre.

Also there are in demesne 10*a*. 2½*r*. of meadow yearly worth 21*s*. 6*d*; price of the acre 2*s*, and lying in the following places, namely, in Windgarel and Stakewra 1*r*.; in Gosland 2*a*. 3*r*; in Baitland 2½*r*.; upon Le Braithmyre 1*a*. 3*r*.; in Hawkernim[2] ½*a*; in Wildishmyre ½*a*.; in Dedmyre 1½*r*; in Watesmedu 3½*r*; at Bretteroum 1½*a*; in Crossemyre 1*a*; and in Engmyre ½*a*.

Sum of acres 10, and 2½*r*.

In the [turbary] of Bolton the lord rector has 2*a*. for fuel worth yearly 12*d*. In the lesser Kellet [Over Kellet] there is a toft with a croft and land[3] belonging to the church in that town worth yearly 13*s*. 4*d*.

THE TENANTS OF THE LORD RECTOR OF BOLTON. — John Attewell holds a toft with a croft and 5*a*. of arable same without licence; the issues until 8 June following amounted to 12*d*, on which day the king pardoned the trespass. Escheators' Accts., 3-20.

land; he renders yearly 8*s.* and shall do suit at the court; Walter son of Agnes a toft with a croft, 1*a.* 1½*r.* of arable land, 2*s.* 3*d.*, doing suit at the court; Thomas de Kellet a toft with a land in the whole[1] and 3*r.*, 12*d*, doing etc.; Agnes relict of the carter a toft with land containing 1½*a.*, 3*s.*, doing etc.; William Bishop a toft with land containing 2*a.* 1*r.*, 5*s.* 9*d*, doing etc.; John son of the smith a toft with land containing 1*a.*, 3*s.* 6*d*, doing etc.; William son of Magge 1*a.*, 3*r.* of arable land and 1*a.* of land, 3*s.* 3*d.*, doing etc; John son of Edward 1*r.*, with pasture, 1*d*; Hauebole son of Christiana a messuage 2*a.* ⅓*r.*, 4*s.* Sum 30*s.* 10*d.*

Bondmen. — Simon son of Gilbert the reeve holds a toft with a croft and 4*a.* of arable land, rendering yearly 4*s.* 3*d.* and he shall be reeve for the lord's will and shall give marchett. Sum 4*s.* 3*d.*

Alterage used to be demised to farm for 10 marks, fixed payments being allowed[2] (allocatis resumptionibus). Sum £6 13*s.* 4*d.*

Sale of the tithe of sheaves. — Bolton 28 marks, greater Kellet [Nether Kellet] 24*m.*, lesser Kellet [Over Kellet] 18*m.*, Slyne 16*m.*, Hest 6*m.*, Stapletonterne 6*m.* And when the land of the demesne is demised to farm the tithes of sheaves thereof are worth 33*s.* 4*d.* Sum £67.

Sum total of the extent of this parsonate £81. 13*s.* 7½*d.*

Be it remembered that it is more expedient to demise the demesne lands to farm than to hold them in the lord's hand; and if the lord wishes to have all kinds of waif (waveria) then it is well to retain as much of the better land as will suffice for one plough and to demise the residue to farm.

Also be it known that Thomas son of Maltilda de Bolton was bound to Mr. John Roud, then rector of the church of Bolton, in 6 marks for certain tithe, but because he had not wherewith to pay he enfeoffed the church of Bolton in 6*a.* of land before the king's statute [of mortmain] lest it might be converted to a lay fee, and there were instruments touching that feoffment.

[2] In the archdeaconry these were — the official of Richmond 10*m*; registrar 5*m*; the vicar loco archdeacon, who is also scribe of the court, 60*s*; the archdeacon's commissary at York 66*s.* 8*d*; his precentor there 20*s*; his advocate there £5; the chancellor of St. Peter at York 20*s.* Procurations, Synodals and Peter's pence in decay, in the deanery of Amounderness 12*s.* 6*d*; Lonsdale and Kendal 60*s*; Coupland and Furness 32*s.* 1*d.*, and elsewhere.

Afterwards those 6a. were withdrawn from the church of Bolton by the seneschals or bailiffs of the earl of Lancaster, wherefore it behoves the archdeacon to treat thereupon with the said earl; and to seek the charters or instruments if they can be found.

Also be it known that the town of [Carnforth][1] which is now in the parish of Warton was in the parish of Bolton before the interdict in England [1208], and the men of that town partook of all the sacraments of the church in Bolton church and their bodies were buried in the cemetery of the church of Bolton, and they paid all manner of tithes both small and great to the church of Bolton. And there is still a path between Bolton and that town called, as it is believed, Bolton 'kyrksty' by which the men used to go from that town to the parish church of Bolton; the truth may be fully sought from the older men of the town of Bolton.

Also be it known that nigh the town of Slyne there was another small town called Stapleton Terne, wherein were as many bondmen and oxgangs of land as there were in the town of Slyne. Which two towns of Slyne and Stapleton Terne used to be held for one town in the wapentake, and were held from the king. Moreover all those dwelling in Stapleton Terne were parishioners of the church of Bolton, like those of Slyne and partook of all the rights or ecclesiastical sacraments of the church of Bolton, and rendered to the same all manner of tithes both great and small. Among other things a certain man Warin, a parishioner, had a small manor house (mansus) with a portion of land in a place called Beamond of the king's gift, which tenement belonged to the town of Skerton in the parish of Lancaster. At length the said Warin and Berleta his wife having fallen into decrepitude gave the little tenement of Beamond by the king's license to the abbot and convent of Furnes for their maintenance during life, and so the abbot and convent made a small grange of that place of Beamond. Afterwards the king coming to the abbey or to that grange saw that the latter was very small and meagre, and gave the town of Stapleton Terne to the abbot and convent in augmentation of the little grange together with other lands belonging to the parish of Halton. But as soon as the abbot and convent had acquired the town of Stapleton Terne to be annexed to that grange they moved away all who were dwelling in that town and made one grange out of the land so brought together and withheld by their privileges all manner of tithes. Yet it is said that the abbot and convent yearly pay to the prior of Lancaster a certain sum of money, but for what tithes is unknown. Thus the church of Bolton was despoiled of its right until the autumn of 1299 when it was peacefully vested of great tithes growing upon lands which belonged to the town of Stapleton Terne. And now the rector of the church of Halton has recovered his right against the prior of Lancaster in the tithes of that grange which belong to his church; and the rector of Bolton has the more fully recovered his right against the prior of tithes of that grange belonging to the church of Bolton or against the abbot and convent of Furnes[1].

CVI. THE PRIORESS OF HAMPOLE. Inq. a. q. d.

Mandate from Thomas, earl of Lancaster, dated at * * , directed to John de Midehope, seneschal of Blakeburnshire.

Inquest taken before John de Midehop, seneschal of Blakeburnschire, in the full court of Rachedale, held there on Thursday next after the feast of St. Valentine, 15 Edward II [18 February, 1322], by Thomas de Wordhul, Geoffrey de Bukkele, Adam de Hulton, Richard son of Gilbert, William de Lightolres, Adam de Bamford, Richard de Whiteword, Nicholas the clerk, Henry de Parys, Hugh son of Patrick, Richard de Bamford, and Ranulph de Stansfeld; who say that Robert de Liversegge formerly holding the sixth part of Rachedale in demesne and service

[1] The taxation of the archdeaconry of Richmond and of the temporal goods of the hospitals and religious of the same [made c. 1292] amounted in the churches of Easingwold, Clapham, Arcledon, Bolton le Sands with the chapel of [Over] Kellet, and in synodals, Peter's pence, sequestrations, and pension of Kirkham in Amounderness, to £200.

When the archbishop of York visited the archdeaconry no clerk in the archdeaconry was obliged to find him hospitality except of his own will. And all anchorites and hermits, houses of hospitality or for the time being of infirm persons or lepers afflicted with leprosy, were in the keeping and disposal of the archdeacon. These liberties the archdeacon obtained by the concession of archbishop Thurstan, of blessed memory, at the prayer and in the presence of King Henry I (vetus) when Allerdale and Cumberland were withdrawn from the archdeaconry in order that the bishopric of Carlisle might be made therefrom. This withdrawal and compensation were made by the will and assent of the chapter of York and the suffragans of that church convoked for the purpose, and was established by apostolic confirmation. Gale, Regist. Honoris Richemundiæ, app. 65.

enfeoffed a certain abbot of Salley of half a ploughland in Whiteword now a hundred years past, as they understand, to hold by the service of 4*s.* yearly; that a certain abbot of Salley enfeoffed the prioress of Hanepol now 80 years past of that half ploughland to hold by the service of 10*s.* yearly and by doing for the abbot the service of 4*s.* yearly to the said Robert and his heirs; that a certain dame Joan de Crescy, formerly prioress of Hanepol, now 60 years past enfeoffed Robert de Whiteword of that half ploughland to hold for homage and the service of 16*s.* yearly with warranty; that Robert now 40 years past enfeoffed a certain abbot of Stanlawe of 2 oxgangs of land in Whiteword, part of the said ½ ploughland, to hold for 8*s.* 2*d.* yearly, with warranty; that the same Robert de Whiteword enfeoffed German his brother of one oxgang of land in the same to hold by the service of 3*s.* 6*d.* yearly, and a certain Geoffrey de Whitword of the 4th part of one oxgang there, to hold by the service of 14*d.* yearly; and a certain Michael del Schagh of 2 acres of land there to hold by the service of 2*d.* yearly; that the said Robert died seised of the half ploughland and after his death succeeded Andrew, his son and heir, who enfeoffed Thomas de Neubold, chaplain, of the half ploughland with the rents of the aforesaid tenants, to hold of the prioress of Hanepol by homage and the service of 16*s.* yearly; that Sir Thomas, the chaplain, is now seised of the services and rents of his tenants and has done the service to the prioress, his lady; that the said Robert de Liversegge had Roger, his son and heir, who succeeded him, and Roger had Robert de Liversegge, his son and heir who succeded him and enfeoffed Henry de Lascy, earl of Lincoln, his lord, now 30 years past of all the lands and tenements which he had in Rachedale both in demesne and service, by virtue whereof the prioress of Hanepole and her successors made the yearly service of 4*s.* to the said earl, and after his decease to Thomas, earl of Lancaster, now lord of Rachedale.

Asked if that half ploughland owes suit to the court of Rachedale, they say not, because Robert de Liversegge in his time did suit to the court of Henry de Lascy, his lord in Rachedale for the tenements which he held of him in demesne and service in Rachedale and after Robert de Liversegge enfeoffed Henry de Lascy, his lord, of his tenements, rents and services, the said suit was annulled. And they say that the tenants of the half ploughland do puture to the serjeants of the lord of Rachedale's court and are answerable in that court in all plaints which may arise as other inhabitants in Rachedale do. And that it is not to any one's injury if the abbot and convent of Whalley have licence to enter that half ploughland by the gift of Thomas de Neubold, chaplain, unless indeed (nisi inde tamen quod) the prioress of whom that half ploughland is immediately held and her successors should lose (debent amittere) the duplication of that farm, to wit 32*s*. according to the custom of the country at the decease of Thomas de Neubold, the chaplain, her tenant and his heirs, and her escheat, if such an event should happen, because the said tenements have now come to be acquired in mortmain. [1]

CVII. ABBOT OF KIRKESTAL.

[15 EDW. II, No. 81.]

Inquest taken on Monday next after the feast of St. John before the Latin Gate, 15 Edward II [10 May, 1322]. The jury say that the abbot and convent of the Cistercian order of Kirkestal were possessed of annual rent for land and tenements in Acrington, Clivacher and Huntcotes, [2] co. Lancaster, conceded to Henry de Lascy, earl of Lincoln and constable of Chester.

They were also possessed of rent from land and tenements in La Roundhaye, Secroft and Shadewell, co. York, conceded to the said Henry. Also of rent granted them by Edmund de Lascy, constable of Chester; rent by grant of lord Edmund de Maironue in Blakeburnshire and from the farm of Cliderhaw, co. Lancaster. The lands of Henry de Lascy are in the king's hand by the rebellion of Thomas, earl of Lancaster.

CVIII. ADAM DE HODELESTON.

[15 EDW. II, No. 3.]

WRIT dated at Pontefract, 12 April, 15th year (1322) directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken at Bilington, before Thomas de Burgh,

[1] Coucher of Whalley, 706-8.

[2] Hugh, abbot of Kirkstall, had previously released for himself and his convent to Henry de Lacy, then earl of Lincoln, all the lands and rents that the abbot and convent had and held of the earl in Accrington, Cliveacher, and Hunnecotes, co. Lanc., and in La Roundhaye, Secroft, and Shadewell, co. York, and the earl granted to them 50 marks yearly for the lands in co. Lanc. and 30 marks yearly for those in co. York., until he or his heirs should grant to them in frankalmoign lands in those counties of equal yearly value. Cal. Close R., 1318-23, p. 586.

escheator, on Friday next before the feast of Pentecost 15 Edward II [28 May 1322], by the oath of William de Herys, Philip de Clayton, Henry de Henthorne, John de Holte, Thomas del Grenegore, Ralph de Revede, William de Wyswalle, Henry de Alvetam, John de Bradhil, Henry de Bredhil, John del Rudding, and Richard de Ruscheton, who say that the said Adam was seised in his demesne as of fee on the day of his death, of one moiety of the manor of Bylington, with a certain tenement in the same manor called Le Scho, and held for one ploughland of the king in chief, of the inheritance of Henry de Lascy, formerly earl of Lincoln, by service, homage, fealty, and the 20th part of one knight's fee, and suit at the 3 weeks' court of the king at Clidrehou, and 3d. yearly at Midsummer for ward of the king's castle of Lancaster, for all services.

The said Adam held no other lands in fee in the county of Lancaster at the time of his death. The aforesaid tenements are worth yearly in all issues £5. Richard son of John de Hodelston is kinsman and next heir of the said Adam de Hodelston, and is of the age of 40 years[1].

CIX. JOHN DE THORNHULL.

[15 EDW. II, No. 48.]

WRIT dated at York, 19 May, 15th year (1322), directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken before Thomas de Burgh, escheator, at Folrigg in Blakeburnshire, on Friday next before the feast of Pentecost, 15 Edward II [28 May, 1322], by the oath of Richard del Shagh, John del Leyecroft, John son of Baudewin, Simon le Fouweler, Robert son of Vympe, John del Hill, John son of Richard de Bayley, Hugh del Hacking, William Fichet, William son of Venne, Henry del Eyse and William del Brigg, who say that John de Thornhill held in his demesne as of fee on the day of his death of the king in chief, as of the lordship of Clyderhou, in the town of Folrigg, his capital messuage and 8 acres of meadow in demesne, yearly worth 4*s.* in all issues; 8 messuages and 8 oxgangs of land with the appurtenances, demised to tenants at will, yearly worth 26*s.* 8*d.* in all issues; 50 acres of [1] Adam de Hodeleston died 12 April, 15th year [1322]; from that date to 22 June following the escheator took 12*d.* of the profit of the pasture there and 4*s.* of hay sold, before he delivered the premises to the heir, by the king's writ. Escheator's Accts., 3-25.

'Rodeland' demised to tenants at will, yearly worth 16*s.* 8*d.* in all issues; 4 cottages demised to farm to four cotters, worth 2*s.* yearly in all issues. All the aforesaid farmers and cotters render their farms wholly at the feast of St. Giles. The said John also held there in his demesne as of fee one water mill worth 20*s.* yearly in all issues. He also had there 20 solidates of rent, to be received yearly by the hands of 4 free tenants at the feast of St. Giles. All these lands and tenements are yearly worth 89*s.* 4*d.* in all issues, and were held by the said John of the king by homage and fealty and by the service of the 8th part of one knight's fee for all service. Brian, first born son of the said John, is his next heir and of the age of 23 years[1].

WRIT dated at York, 18 May, 15th year (1322) directed to John Travers.

Inquest taken at Lancastre on the morrow of Pentecost, 15 Edward II [31 May, 1322] before John Trauers, keeper of the castles, lands and tenements which belonged to Thomas, earl of Lancastre, and other enemies and rebels of the king in the county of Lancastre, in the king's hands by forfeiture, by John le Keu, Robert de Skerton, John de Hesham, Alan le Meystersone, Robert de Bolerun, Adam le Bourser, John le Mercer, Warner son of Thomas, Richard de Hyndeshagh, Laurence de Bulk, Ralph le Walker and Hugh le Lyster, who say that Nicholas du Lee held one messuage with the appurtenances in Lancastre, of Geoffrey, formerly prior of Lancastre, predecessor of the present prior, by the service of 2*s.* yearly; and the said Geoffrey and all his successors, priors of Lancastre, while Nicholas held the said messuage, were seised of the said rent by the hands of Nicholas as their true tenant. Afterwards the said messuage came to the hands of Thomas, earl of Lancastre, by purchase; and John, prior of Lancastre, and Fulcher, prior of the same place, predecessors of the present prior, and likewise the last mentioned prior,

[1] An inquest of his Yorks, lands was taken the following day. John de Thornhill died on 18 May, 15th year [1322]; between that date and 16 June following the escheator took from the premises, of recognizances of villeins 6*s.* 8*d*, hay sold 4*s*; profit of the water mill 3*s.* 4*d.*, before delivering them to the heir. Escheators Accts., 3-25.

were continuously seised of the said rent by the hands of the earl until his death. The said Geoffrey the prior and his successors were seised of the said rent as of rent service, by the hands of each tenant of the said messuage, from time immemorial to the death of the said earl.

CXI. WILLIAM DE WALTON.

WRIT dated at Rothewell, 7 June, 15th year (1322), directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken at Farneworth, before Thomas de Burgh, escheator, on Monday next after the feast of St. Botulph, 15 Edward II [21 June, 1322] by the oath of Robert Grelle, Henry de Par, Robert de Blakeburn, Robert Travers, Jordan de Penkyth, John de Scherdilegh, John de Ditton, John del Dichefeld, Robert de Norrays, Henry de Eltonhevyd, Richard del Wodefal, and Roger de Toxstath, who say that William de Waleton held in his demesne as of fee, of the king in chief, as part (ratione) of the lands and tenements which belonged to Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, 6 messuages and 6 oxgangs of land in Waleton, whereof Alice mother of the said William holds two messuages, two oxgangs of land in dower, and the said 4 messuages and 4 oxgangs of land are yearly worth 12*s.* in all issues. He also held of the king in chief in form aforesaid, the bailiwick of the king's serjeanty of the wapentake of Derby and a certain profit called Foldage, acquired for every beast taken and detained in fold for debt to the king, by the execution of the judgments of the king's courts, in the county of Lancaster each night in winter time a halfpenny, and in summer time a farthing, which serjeanty and foldage are yearly worth in all issues £9. 18*s.* 4*d.* He also held 4 oxgangs of land with the appurtenances in Wavertre and 4 oxgangs of land with the appurtenances in Everton of the king in service attached as it were to the aforesaid bailiwick, and worth nothing yearly beyond the rent paid to the king, the which tenements he holds of the king in chief, by the service of serjeanty aforesaid for all. He also held the manor of Waleton, in which there is a capital messuage, of the king in chief, by reason of the lands and tenements of Robert de Holand being in the king's hands, worth nothing yearly beyond repairs; 88 acres of land in demesne worth yearly 85*s.* 4*d*; 12 acres of demesne meadow worth yearly 18*s*; two parts of a certain several pasture, worth yearly 16*d*; a windmill and a water mill worth yearly 40*s*; 4 messuages and 4½ oxgangs of land worth yearly 13*s*. 6*d*; 5 acres of land demised to divers tenants for term of years and worth yearly 5*s*. He also held there 44*s*. 10½*d*. rent, and the rent of one barbed arrow and 2 roses yearly, being the free rents to be received by the hands of divers free tenants, as in a schedule[1] sewn to this inquest. He held the aforesaid manor with the appurtenances of the king in chief by reason that the lands and tenements of the said Robert de Holand were in his hands, by the free service of 60*s*. yearly, whereof Alice, mother of the said William, renders the third part for the tenements assigned to her in dower. He held the aforesaid manor for the term of his life, according to the tenor of a certain fine made between the said William and one Alan le Norrays, to the intent that after the death of the said William the manor should remain to Simon, his firstborn son; which Simon is next heir of the said William de Walton and of the age of 16 years and three quarters, and was married six years past.

The serjeanty of Derby, co. Lancaster, except dower, was committed to William de Chisenhale, rendering yearly to the Exchequer at Easter and Michaelmas £10, and when the dower falls in 20 marks for all, to hold until the heir attains his lawful age[2].

CXII. EXTENT OF THE MANOR OF MANCHESTER. A. D. 1322.

[From a late 15th cent. copy in the possession of the editor supplemented by a somewhat different return preserved in Kuerden's MSS., Chetham Lib. ff. 276-81 (A); Towneley's MSS., Chetham Lib., C.8—8 (B); Harl. [1] Now wanting.

[2] William de Walton died 1 June 15th year. [1322] From that day until 2 July following, when the escheator delivered the third part of the profits of the bailiwick, foldage, and 4 tenements and 4 oxgangs of land in Walton to Anilla, relict of the said William, he took 10*s*. of profit of the bailiwick and foldage, and from 2 July to Michaelmas he took 27*s*. 2*d*. of the profit of two parts of the bailiwick; 2*s*. 1*d*. of two parts of foldage; and 2*s*. of two parts of the pasture of those tenements; from Michaelmas to 23 November following when he delivered the said two parts to William de Chisenhale, by the king's writ, he took 13*s*. 4*d*. of issues of two parts of the messuages and oxgangs. Escheator's Accts., 3-26.

WRIT. — On May 18th, 1322, a mandate was directed to John Travers, keeper of the castles, manors, towns and lands of Thomas, sometime earl of Lancaster, and of other rebels in co. Lancaster, to make an extent thereof, to wit, of their yearly value in demesnes, villeinages, homages, services, rents, and all other issues &c. [see No. CXIII.] Cal. Patent Rolls, 1321-4, p. 161.

MANCHESTER. — In this roll are contained memoranda touching the manor and lordship of Mamcestre made with the aid of John de Hulton and Adam de Radcliffe and of all the bondmen (bondi) and others there, on the * of the month of June, in the 13th [rectius 15th] year of the reign of king Edward son of King Edward [1322].

BY WHAT SERVICE. — The same manor is held of the earl of Lancaster for 5 knights' fees and the fourth part of one fee by rendering yearly to the same earl for sake at the 4 terms 82*s.* 6*d.* and for ward of Lancaster castle at Midsummer 52*s.* 6*d.*, for each fee 10*s.*, and by doing suit at the county [court] of Lancaster, for which fine is now made yearly for 20*s.* (which must be considered); and by suit at the wapentake [court] of Salford, for which fine is now made yearly for 13*s.* 4*d.* (concerning which as above), and that suit is due from three weeks to three weeks.

At Mamecestre [there is due] to the earl of Lancaster of a rent called Sake [1] at the feasts of Christmas, Easter, Midsummer and Michaelmas 82*s.* 6*d.* by equal portions; to the same earl for ward of Lancaster castle at Midsummer 52*s.* 6*d.* [2]; suit at the county is also due from the lord, for which fine is made yearly for 20*s.*, and suit at the wapentake of Salford is due from the lord, for doing or releasing which fine is made yearly for 13*s.* 4*d*; suit is also due from the lord at the wapentake of Derby for Keuerdelegh, for doing or releasing which fine is made for 10*s.* and [these fines] are paid yearly to Thomas de Hulme for 43*s.* 4*d.* So Mamecestre pays altogether £8. 18*s.* 4*d.* [Sum of the charges £8. 18*s.* 4*d.*]

The manor of Mamecestre with Keuerdelegh, Barton and Heton [is extended] to £196. 10*s.* 8½*d.*

The manor of Mamecestre held of the [3] earl of Lancaster for 5¼ fees renders yearly to the same earl for ward of Lancaster castle 52*s.* 6*d.* at Midsummer, and 82*s.* 6*d.* for Sakefee at the (Chetham Soc., vol. 56, O. S.) pp. 361-80. This has been collated with the original MS. (also printed in Mamecestre, pp. 274-92) and a careful comparison made with codices B. C. D. The result is embodied in the small type portion of this text.

[1] A and C have Sac. or Sakefee.
[2] A and B have 6*s.* 6*d.*

4 terms, and does suit at the county and at the wapentake of Salford, as above.

Keuerdlegh held of the same earl, by reason of the manor of Halton in the county of Chester, for the 8th part of a fee does suit at the wapentake of Derby, as above; it yields yearly in issues 8*s.* 1*d.*; of which Mamecestre yields 2*s.* 9*d.* [See below].

The manor there partially (aliqualiter) built upon, contains 2 acres of land within the precincts, of which the easements of houses are worth nothing beyond the maintenance; the herbage (herbæ) of the enclosure is worth 18*d.* yearly; outside the gate there is a certain house which used to be the kennel of the lord's dogs, which is worth with the curtilage 12*d*; below the wall of the stable outside the gate there is a certain plat of pasture towards the waters of Hirke and Irwell worth 3*d.* yearly.

The site contains within the precinct 2 acres of land worth in herbage 18*d.*, and a house which used to be the dogs' kennel with a little curtilage is worth 12*d.* as arrented; a plat of pasture outside the gate towards the waters of Irk and Irwell is worth [3*d*?] yearly.

Keuerdlegh. The site containing 2 acres of land in an enclosure has 2 gardens with the curtilage worth 2*s.* in fruits and herbage, and a dovecote worth 3*s.* 4*d.* [Sum 8*s.* 1*d*].

THE VILLEINS OF GORTON. — Henry le Reve, the lord's native of flesh and blood, holds of the lord one messuage with one oxgang of land in Gorton in villeinage, renders yearly at the 4 customary terms 8*s.* 4*d.*, and will plough for the lord with his own plough at whatsoever sowing (semen) may please the lord for one day at the lord's food for one repast, price of the work beyond the food 2*d.*; and will harrow for the lord for another day at the lord's food for one repast, price of the work beyond food 1*d.*, or for half a day without food, price of the work aforesaid; and will reap in autumn at the lord's food for one repast for a day, price of the work beyond the food 1*d*; and will carry in autumn in his barrow (carra) or cart (carecta) the lord's grain, at the lord's food for one repast, price of the work beyond the food 2*d*; and he with the other natives and with all others who owe suit to the mill of Gorton will seek for (queret) millstones for the mill of Gorton at their own expense wherever they have to be sought for, taking from the lord for packing them (ad ipsas trussandas) 4*d.*, and 3*s.* of the lord's money for carriage of each 'couple' of millstones, which carriage, on account of the uncertainty of the place from whence they have to be sought, and of the need for seeking them, is not extended at a set yearly value; and he will fine for the marriage of his daughter outside the lordship and for putting his son to a free handicraft (ars); and after his decease if he have a son and a wife the lord shall have the third part of his goods; if he have no son but only (immo) a wife, or a son and not a wife, the lord shall have a half of his goods; and if he have neither son, daughter, nor wife, the lord shall have all his goods; and after his decease his posthumous son, or posthumous daughter if he have no son, shall fine with the lord to hold the land at the lord's will; and he shall carry goods (averiabit) as far as Chestrefelt.

Geoffrey of the Abbaye holds a messuage, an oxgang of land there, renders yearly 4*s.* 5*d* at the above terms, and shall do in all things as the said Henry.

Thomas of the Olres [Alders] [holds] a messuage, an oxgang of land, renders yearly 13*s.* 4*d.* at the said terms and does [as above].

Hugh of the Abbay [holds] a messuage, an oxgang of land, renders yearly 4*s.* 5*d.* at the said terms and does [as above].

Emma the widow [holds] a messuage, an oxgang of land, renders yearly 10*s.* 8*d.* at the same terms and does in all things [as above].

Hugh son of Richard holds half an oxgang of land, renders yearly 5*s.* and shall do in all things as the said Henry. Sum of the rent of natives of Gorton 46*s.* 2*d.*

THE VILLEINS OF ARDWICKE. — Richard Akke, native, holds of the lord 2 messuages, 2 oxgangs of land in Ardwycke in villeinage, renders yearly 8*s.* at the customary terms and shall do in all things as the said Henry le Reve, except this, that he shall not carry millstones to the mill of Gorton but (scilicet) to the mill of Mamcestre, taking from the lord with the other natives and leaseholders as above 4*d.* for hauling those millstones, and 6*s.* 8*d.* for carrying those millstones, which carriage is not extended at a set value (certo) for the reason above stated.

THE VILLEINS OF CURMESALLE. — Richard son of Ma[r]iot holds a messuage, an oxgang of land in Curmesalle [Crumpsall] in villeinage, renders yearly 5*s.* 2*d.* at the customary terms and shall do in all services and customs as the said Richard Akke of Ardwicke.

William son of Mariot [holds] a messuage, an oxgang of land, renders yearly 5*s.* 2*d.* at the said terms and shall do [as above].

Richard son of Roger [holds] a messuage, an oxgang of land, renders yearly 5*s.* 2*d.* at the said terms and does [as above].

Sum of the works of natives 40 works, and they are worth 5*s.* Sum of the rent of the same 69*s.* 8*d.*

GORTON. — Be it known that the tenants of Gorton who hold land for term of years and were less free (minus liberi) shall do the same customs of ploughing, harrowing, reaping, and carrying corn and millstones as the natives of Gorton and the tenants of Ardwicke and Openschaghe [Openshaw].

HETON NORREIS. ARABLE LAND. — There are there 6 messuages and 6 and a half oxgangs of land with the appurtenances worth 32*s.* 7*d.* yearly, the oxgangs being at different prices [1], as appears among the demises of land ; there are there 17 messuages, 225 acres of arable land by the lesser hundred worth £7. 11*s.* 3¼*d.* yearly, the acres being at different prices, as appears among the said demises of land. And be it known that certain acres of land and plats are of arable land, some of meadow land and some of pasture, and so meadow, arable and pasture cannot be separated because some are meadow and pasture and some arable land. Sum 6½ oxgangs, 225 acres by the lesser hundred, and worth £9. 3*s.* 10¼*d.*

ARABLE LANDS. — Mamecestre contains 1668¼ roods [2] [rectius 1673 acres, ½ rood] and 38¾ oxgangs of land [3] worth £70. 10*s.* 0¾*d.* yearly, viz. around Mamecestre 1102½ [4] acres, ½ rood, 31¾ oxgangs, and ½ oxgang of land, worth £40. 18*s.* 6½*d* ; in Keuerdlegh 222 acres, 3 roods, worth £12 5*s.* 8*d* : in Barton 122 acres, 3 roods, 8 oxgangs of land worth £8. 2*s* ; in Heton Norreys 225 acres, 6½ oxgangs of land worth £9. 3*s.* 10¼*d* ; [as follows], in Aldeport 30 acres, value 30*s* ; in Bradford 70 acres, value 33*s.* and there a grange and an oxhouse are built, of no value to be extended, except for the farmers ; in the park of Blakeley [5] 13 acres, value 8*s.* 8*d* ; in Grenelowmerche 223 acres, 1 rood of land, value £5. 13*s.* 6½*d (sic)* ; 14 acres of the sum at 8*d.* ; and the residue at 6*d* ; Thomas de Chorleton has 7 acres of land there by a certain assize of novel disseisin, but they are demised as appears amongst the tenants ; in Le Marescalfeld 13 acres of land, value 6*s.* 6*d* ; by Flourilach 4 acres of land, value 2*s* ; in Pyecroft 10 acres of land, value 5*s*; in Curmeshale the acre different [prices], and 6½ oxgangs of land, value 32*s.* 7*d.*, of different prices.

Whereof be it known that all the aforesaid lands which are demised are built upon (ædificantur), namely of the lands which are demised for a term, in Openschagh 4 messuages, in Denton one messuage, in Gorton 15 messuages, in Ardewick 8 messuages, in Keuerdelegh 15 messuages, in Barton 15 messuages, in Heton 23 messuages — are built. [Sum £70. 10*s.* 0¾*d*].

HEATH. — Around Mamecestre there are in plats and heath 195½ acres, ½ rood worth £6. 14*s.* 8*d.*, besides certain arable lands [demised] to farm for the term of life of the tenants, as below among the tenants; namely, in Twantford[1] 20 acres, value 6*s.* 8*d*; in Le Choo 16½ acres, value 16*s.* 6*d*; in Mulnewardcroft 20 acres, value 4*s*; in Osecroft[2] and Brendorchard 7 acres ½ rood, value 7*s.* 6*d*; in Cnolles[3] 17 acres, value 11*s.* 4*d.*, for the acre 8*d*; in Manclou[4] 2 acres, value 16*d*; in Le Berchenetruding[5] 3 acres, value 2*s*; by Longest Haweton[6] 50 acres value 33*s.* 4*d*; in Smithifeld[7] 12 acres, value 4*s*; in Keperfeld 8 acres, value 8*s*; in Tynnecroft 3 acres, value 2*s*; in the heath of Mamecestre 38 acres, value 38*s*; and there are also 85 acres there, value 85*s.* which are not reckoned here but elsewhere amongst the tenants for the reason above written.
[Sum £6. 14*s.* 8*d.*]

MEADOWS. — Mamecestre has 18½ acres of meadow, worth 35*s.* 6*d.*, namely: at Mamecestre, 4 acres, value 8*s*, namely in Aldeport 2 acres, in Bradford 2 acres, for the acre 2*s*; at Keuerdelegh, 14½ acres, value 27*s.* 6*d*; namely, in Muchelmede 9 acres of meadow, in Saltlode 1 acre of meadow, in Le Wallelode 1 acre of meadow, in Grendeaker 1 acre of meadow, in Cuchenlode[8], 1 acre of meadow, for the acre 2*s*, in Le Whattebe[9] and in Le Karrs 1½ acre of meadow, value 18*d*, for the acre 12*d*. [Sum 35*s.* 6*d.*]

THE PASTURE OF HETON NORREIS. — There are there in the lord's wood 70 acres of common pasture for the tenants of [Heton] Norreis and the tenants of Wythinton with its members, except (praeter) during 6 weeks after Michaelmas in the time of pannage, which are not extended to a set yearly value, because they cannot be extended to anything beyond sufficient pasture for the leaseholders (cenarii—sic for terminarii).

There are there in Bronadge[1] 356 acres of common pasture by the lesser hundred, namely common for all the said tenants [whereof] Sir John Byron and Sir John de Longforde enclosed to themselves 100 acres of land by the lesser hundred at the time when the last Sir [Thomas] Grelle was in ward of the king and those 100 acres they have made (coluerunt) arable land and the tenants of [dame Joan] de Longforde and of Richard de Byron now hold them by the said disseisin, [and] whereof the said Sir John de Byron and dame Joan de Longforde lately enclosed to themselves 36 acres of land and have made those acres arable land. Wherefore let it be known that the lord can appropriate to himself the aforesaid 136 acres and enclose [them] at his will, saving sufficient pasture for all the said commoners; which [acres] would then be worth 34*s*. yearly, price of the acre 3*d*, but are not reckoned here at a value as the lord's profit until they be won (lucrentur) by plea or otherwise.

Sum 462 acres of pasture by the lesser hundred.

MEMORANDUM. — And be it known that the lord is disseised of 136 acres of pasture in Bronage [which] Nicholas de Longforde and Richard de Byron hold in Heton, by Sir John de Byron, Sir John de Longforde and Joan de Longforde, deceased (defunctos) as is above written; of one rood of waste nigh Saltergate by Richard de Barlawe, tenant of Sir Nicholas de Longforde; of one plat of waste upon which a cottage was built by Richard son of Gilbert; of one acre between Newfelt and Heton Woode by Thomas le Fowler; of 2 acres of land and more where the new house with the grange was built by (cum) Roger Fowler, the whole of which [was taken?] from the waste; of one rood of land in 2 plats between Le Wetheheye and Le Warth by William Le Smyth of Diddesburie, Robert de Chedle, and dame Matilda de Cholle; of one rood of land by Pordurudynge called Le Boncke by Nicholas de Longforde, and the said William Le Smythe, the whole of which [was taken from the waste?] except the Warthe.

Sum 3 acres 3 roods and more.

THE MOOR AND TURBARY OF OPONSCHAGHE, CURMESALE, AND DENTON. — Of Oponschaghe. There are there 100 acres of turf moor of the lord's soil which cannot be extended to a yearly profit because its worth (bonitas) decreases yearly so that it will quickly be annihilated; in which the lord's tenants of Gorton, Oponschaghe and Ardwycke, the lord's tenants, and the lord of Ancotes, have common of turbary. Of which moor Sir John de Byron appropriated to himself without licence 40 acres of moor, whereof the lord is disseised.

Of Curmesale. There are there 40 acres of moor and pasture in which all the tenants of Curmesale have common of pasture, whereby the tenants are charged so much the more rent [1], and they cannot be extended to any profit because they are worth nothing beyond common.

Of Denton. There is there the waste of Denton containing 200 acres by the greater hundred, of which the lord is partner (particeps) with Alexander [de] Schoresworth, Alexander de Denton, John de Hyde, Hugh son of Richard de Moston, and Elias de Bothum of Denton, by reason of 2 oxgangs of land of Denton which Robert Grelle acquired from a certain John 'Lord', who held those tenements with his share of the said waste from the lord of Wythington, and from which waste each of the said partners by assent can approve to himself 25 acres; the profit of which in pasture and turbary is extended with the oxgangs of Denton aforesaid because it belongs to the same (eidem dependet).

PASTURE. — Mamecestre contains 326 acres of pasture with the woods, parks and forest, value £34. 19*s*. 5*d*., namely:— At Mamecestre 86 acres and the vaccaries, value £31. 11*s*. [2], namely in Aldeport 20 acres of pasture, value 13*s*. 4*d*., for the acre 8*d*; in Bradeford 54 acres of pasture, which can be ploughed, value 27*s*., for the acre 6*d*; and 12 acres there which cannot be ploughed, because in wood, value 4*s*., for the acre 4*d*.

In Blaklegh there is pasture in wood and open ground (in plano) which is not measured by the acre, but can support 200 cattle (averia) by the greater hundred, of which the keep is worth £6 yearly, for each head 6*d*; and besides this it can sustain 200 does (damæ) and this kind of deer (feræ bestiæ) which are not extended here because they are only (nisi) for the lord's pastime with the deer-leap [3].

In Horewych there are 16 plats of pasture which are not measured because of their extent in wood and open ground; of which 2 plats of wood and open ground always constitute one vaccary; so that in the whole there are 8 vaccaries, of which Aynouesbotheleye [4], which is a plat of wood worth 26*s*. 8*d*., Little Hordern, which is a plat of moor and is worth 33*s*. 4*d*. constitute one vaccary, value 53*s*. 4*d*; whereof 10 cartloads of hay are produced [5], Rydeley [6] which is a plat of wood worth 40*s*. and Shupenley[1] which is a plat of moor worth 20*s*, constitute one vaccary, value 60*s*.: whereof 12 cartloads of hay. Calverley, which is a plat of wood worth 33*s*. 4*d*, and Wildboresolre[2], also called Great Hordern, which is a plat of moor worth 20*s*, constitute one vaccary, value 53*s*. 4*d*; whereof one cartload of hay. Wilderhirst, which is a plat of wood worth 40*s*. and Bredened[3] which is a plat of moor worth 26*s*. 8*d*., constitute one vaccary, value 66*s*. 8*d*; whereof 12 cartloads of hay. Leffeld,[4] which is plat of meadow and pasture, whereof 20 cartloads of hay, is one vaccary, value 60*s*. Hardernsolynes[5] which is a plat of moor [constitutes] one vaccary, value [40*s*.] and at that value (pretium) the 6 aforesaid vaccaries used to be put to farm. Horewicheley which is a plat of wood worth 40*s*. and Egbedene[6], also called Hagheved[7], which is a plat of moor, constitute one vaccary, worth 66*s*. 8*d*[8]; whereof 3 cartloads of hay. Okenley which is a plat of wood, whereof 20 cartloads of hay, worth 40*s*. and Egborden, also called Witheneved[9] which is a plat of moor worth 26*s*. 8*d*., constitute one vaccary, value 66*s*. 8*d*. [Sum £31. 11*s*.]

At Keuerdelegh, 60 acres of pasture worth 26*s*. 5*d*, namely, New Plockes, New Carrs and Warthleysyde, 8 acres of pasture, value 6*s*. 8*d*, for the acre 10*d*; in Calverhey[10] one acre of pasture, value 6*d*; in Le Brerehey 7 acres, value 21*d*, for the acre 3*d*; in Le Heywood 25 acres of pasture value 12*s*. 6*d*., for the acre 6*d*., in which the lord's tenants were wont to claim common of pasture; but lately they were assarted and put to farm for those acres until [the lord's tenants] were disturbed by the earl of Lancaster's tenants of Appleton, who claim common there by might (posse), not by right: therefore it is extended to a value; and there are there in Le Netherwood with Le Heth 20 acres of pasture in which the [lord's] tenants claim common of pasture, but now they are arrented at the lord's will by parcels, value 5*s*., for the acre 3*d*.

At Barton 30 acres of pasture worth 8*s*., namely in Boysnape 12 acres of pasture, value 6*s*., for the acre 6*d*; in Lostoke 20 acres of pasture in which all the tenants of the lord of Barton have common of pasture except (præter) during six weeks in the time of pannage; and the lord of Urmeston with his tenants of Urmeston has the same common and for the same season by charter, rendering to the lord at Christmas and Midsummer 2*s*; and also in Heyzmos, Whitemos, Bromyhurstheth and in one acre of pasture in Pullegreene which are reckoned by admeasurement among the woods of the tenants who have common at all times, from which there is no profit to the lord and therefore they are not extended; but the arable land by reason of that common is extended at so much the more (altius).

At Heton 136 acres of pasture worth 34*s*, namely in the lord's wood there are 70 acres of pasture common for the tenants of Heton and Withinton with the members, except during six weeks in the time of pannage, wherefore they cannot be extended to a value beyond sufficiency for the commoners; and there are in Bronnegge [Burnage] 356 acres of pasture common for the said tenants, whereof the lord could appropriate to himself 136 acres of pasture, value 34*s*., for the acre 3*d*., beyond sufficiency of pasture for those commoners, namely those which John de Byron, John de Longford, and Joan de Longford have cultivated and enclosed. [Sum 34*s*].

[Sum total £34. 19*s*. 5*d*.].

WOOD WITH TURBARY. — There is a certain wood there called Hetonwoode of oak trees and such like, in which the tenants of Heton who hold in fee by charter have housbote and heybote by the allowance of the lord, whereby that wood is much destroyed and is not growing up again, therefore as to the yearly value of pannage in the wood, or in any other issues of the wood, no account is made (non computatur) because if there be anything it will thus in a short time come to an end; there are there in a certain moor called Heton Mos 30 acres of turf moor, in which the free tenants of Heton shall have as much housboute as belongs to them, saving sufficient common for the commoners, and from hence the lord can yearly sell 6*s*. 8*d*. of turbary. Be it known that this cannot be counted for value because ere long there will be none. Sum of the acres of moor 30.

WOOD. — MAMECESTRE has woods and moors of turbary which are not measured on account of the abundance and diversity,.....[1] worth yearly £6. 9*s*. 2*d*.

At Mamecestre the woods are worth yearly £6. 6*s*. namely, the wood of Aldeport, which could be enclosed so as to make feeding ground[2] at the lord's will, containing one league in circuit, worth in pannage with eyries of sparrow hawks, herons and eagles, honey, bees and such like issues 6*s*. 8*d*., and in stock (vestura) of oak trees and such like [timber] to be felled in gross [is worth] £30., but [this would be] to its destruction; the several wood of Bradeford, in pannage, honey, bees, and such like [issues is worth] 6*s*. yearly, the stock (vestura) of the same £10, but the forest would then be destroyed, and it contains a league in circuit; the park of Blakelegh is worth in pannage, eyries of eagles, herons and sparrow hawks, honey, bees, iron ore, burning of charcoal[1] and other issues 53*s.* 4*d*; the stock of oak trees with the whole covert is worth 200 marks in gross if the wood were destroyed and contains 7 leagues in circuit with 2 deerleaps by the grant of kings; the wood of Horewich contains 16 leagues in circuit, worth yearly in pannage, eyries of eagles, herons and sparrow hawks, honey, mines of millstones and iron, burning of charcoal and such like issues 60*s.*, of which the stock of oak trees, alders[2] and such like great covert [is worth] 160 marks, and the same wood is so far several (separalis) that no one is allowed to enter it without license, whereby if any animal is found in it without license the owner of the beast shall give 6*d.* by set custom for the trespass; and if 100 beasts more or less of one owner are found in the forest without license he shall not give more than 6*d.* for the trespass, as is aforesaid; and because that custom, and a certain other one concerning the keeping of that wood are something of profit, they are not here reckoned, because in practice (mos) they do not arise from the wood nor from the pasture but from both, as fully declared among the pleas and perquisites; the moor of Openshagh contains 100 acres of turbary of the lord's soil which are not to be extended at a yearly profit seeing that its worth (bonitas) gradually decreases so that it is already almost annihilated; in the which the lord's tenants of Gorton, Openshagh and Ardewyke, and the lord of Ancotes have common of turbary; whereof Sir John de Biron has appropriated to himself 40 acres of moor to the lord's disseisin; the waste of Curmeshale [Crumpsall] containing 40 acres of pasture, is not extended at any value by itself, because all the tenants of Curmeshale have common there whereby their tenements are put to farm for so much the more,[3] and so it has no value beyond the common; the waste of Denton contains 200 acres by the greater hundred, [of which] the lord of Mancestre is sharer [with] Alexander de Schoresworth, Alexander de Denton, John de la Hyde, Hugh son of Richard de Moston, and Elias de Bothum of Denton, by reason of 2 oxgangs of land which Robert de Ashton held of the lord for the term of his life in Denton, which Robert Grelle acquired from a certain John le Lord who held those tenements with his share of the waste, which is not separated from the lordship of Withinton, of which waste each of the said sharers can approve to himself 25 acres; the profit in pasture and turbary is extended with the said oxgangs of which it is parcel (quibus dependet); Keuerdelegh has 2 woods of which the pannage, honey, bees and other issues are yearly worth 6*s.* 8*d*; the covert of the same in oak trees . . . .

In Barton . . . . . has the third part of the wood of Boylesnape[1], and the wood of Lostoke, in which the oak trees, hazels, thorns and such like trees growing there are worth 100 [marks] at the destruction thereof, but the pannage of the same with eyries of eagles, herons and sparrow hawks, honey, bees [&c.] are worth yearly 2*s*, namely 1*s*. each; in Haremos 20 acres of moor; in Whitemos 10 acres of moor; in Bromyhurstheth 120 acres by the lesser hundred; in Hulmmos[2] 12 acres of turbary which are the lord's soil, in which the tenants of the lord of Barton with the members have common of turbary, from which no advantage can accrue to the lord beyond common, except in as much as the arable lands are put to a higher farm by reason of these.

Chatmos is the soil of the lords of Barton, Workesle [Worsley], Astelegh, Workedelegh [Worsley] and Bedford pro indiviso, and is not measured because it contains a great area for very little worth, in which all the tenants of these lords have common of turbary; which moor is not extended at a yearly profit because its trifling worth gradually decreases by reason of this common right.

Heton Norreys has a wood called Heton Wood of oak and such like [trees], in which the tenants of Heton who hold in fee by charter have housebote and haybote by permission of the lord, whereby many [trees] are destroyed and not replaced, so that the yearly value in pannage, and other issues of the wood is not reckoned because in a short time it will thus disappear; the moor called Hetonmos contains 30 acres of turbary in which the free tenants of Heton have housbote whilst it suffices and beyond this the lord can sell turves [worth] 6*s*. 8*d*. yearly as now, but this cannot be counted as a yearly profit because there will soon be none.

[Sum £6. 9*s*. 2*d*.]

THE MILLS WITH THE COMMON OVEN. — There is there the mill of Mamcestre running by the water of Irke worth £10 yearly, to which all the burgesses and all the tenants of the town of Mamcestre with the hamlets of Ardwicke, Oponshaghe, Curmesalle, Moston, Nuthurst[3], Gothereswicke and Ancottes ought to grind their grain to the sixteenth grain, no tenant of the town or hamlets being excepted except the lord of Moston who shall be 'hoperfree', and ought to grind to the twentieth grain; there is there the lord's common oven, worth half a mark yearly at which each burgess of Mamcestre ought to bake (furnire) by custom; and also a certain fulling mill running by the bank of the said water [of Irk] worth 13*s*. 4*d*. yearly; there is also there the mill of Gorton running by the water of Gorrebrocke, worth 40*s.* yearly, at which all the tenants of the said hamlet ought to grind to the 16th grain. Sum £13.

THE FISHERY. — There are also there the waters of Ircke running below Mamchestre and Blakele; Medeloke[1] running through the midst of the lord's fee of Aldeport; and Gorebrocke [running] through the midst of Gorton; the banks (margines) of which upon either side are the lord's soil; wherein it is illicit for anyone to fish without the license of the lord, because it is warren; and the fishery of them is worth 12*d*; there is there the water of Irwell running above the borough of Mamchestre separating the lord's lordship from Salforde, the fishery of which on the side ol Mamchestre is the lord's several fishery because [it is warren], and is worth 2*s.* yearly.
Sum 3*s.*

THE MILLS WITH THE FISHERY [OF HETON]. — There is a water mill there running by Hertwellesicke[2] worth 16*s.* 8*d.* yearly, and also a several fishery in Mersee to the midstream [of Mersee from Gri]mesbothum unto Dutesbure[3] [Didsbury] worth 6*d.* yearly, and this mill from ancient time[4] used to run by Mersee and then was worth 40*s.*[5] yearly, but now is not worth so much for default of water, nevertheless all the tenants of Heton ought to grind at it to the * grain.
Sum 17*s.* 2*d.*

MILLS, FISHERIES AND OVENS. — [The particulars are precisely the same as above except that the common oven is described as standing 'nigh the lords's court', and the fulling mill is valued at 8*s.* 4*d.* After reference to the several fishery of Irwell the extent continues]—

At Keuerdelegh [Cuerdley] there is a mill running by a certain stream of water issuing from the moors and woods; and a windmill worth yearly 16*s.* 8*d.* at which all the lord's tenants of Keuerdelegh ought to grind to the 16th grain; and there is there a several fishery of the lord in Merse along the lord's lands, which used to be put at farm for 2*s.* but now for nothing, nor can it be extended at anything because the 'Kedells' cannot be set firm (fundari), nor secure upon the bank for taking fish owing to the depth of the water, nor can they be fished otherwise. At Barton there is the mill of Barton running by the water of Irwell worth yearly 40*s*, at which the lord's tenants there shall grind to the 16th measure (vas); and a several fishery in the same from Barton-

THE CUSTOM OF THE TOLL. — Of the custom of taking toll at the markets (nundinæ) of Mamchester, viz. from [each] horse, mare, ox, cow, bullock (juvencus), heifer, pig, and hide, of the value of 4 pence — a halfpenny or more; from wether (multo), ewe (ovis) gimmer (multa) or other sheep (bidens) with their issue, goat, or kid, if to be sold for 4*d.* — a halfpenny or more; from each piece of half cloth [if] it exceed 4*d.* — a halfpenny; from a hive of bees, honey, and wax sold, — from the buyer ½*d.* and from the seller ½*d*; from each man's load of geese, capons, cocks, hens, eggs or corn of whatever grain, — from the buyer a farthing, and from the seller a farthing; from each horse-load of corn, bread, meal, every kind of fish except salmon, herring and such like, or cloth, — from the buyer 1*d.* and from the seller 1*d*; from each salmon sold, — from the seller ½*d.*, from the buyer ½*d*;[1] from each piece of linen cloth cut (scissa), — from the buyer ½*d*, and from the seller ½*d*; from each load of garlick, onions, cheese, charcoal (carbo), — from the buyer 1*d.*, from the seller 1*d*; from each horse-load of bakestones, from the seller ½*d*; from the like kind and every kind of * * * from the seller ¼*d*; for a horse-load or like amount of earthen pots, from the buyer [¼*d.*] and from the seller ¼*d.*; for each horse load of merchandise[2] or loads of the like kind sold within the lord's stalls (selda) — from the seller ½*d*; and outside the stalls from the seller ¼*d*; from a load of spices (specierum) within the lord's stalls, of the seller ½*d*; from each load of hard iron (ferri aceri) and the like sold, of the buyer 1*d.*

And be it known that this toll is taken from all except (praeter) the lord's burgesses dwelling within the borough, and from others who by charters of kings and by honours claim to withdraw quit (qui factis regum et per honores quietè clamant recedere). And this toll is to be doubled (sic) from all things there bought and sold in markets (nundinæ) or fair (feria)[1].

PLEAS AND PERQUISITES OF THE COURT, MARKET AND FAIRS. — There is a court Baron there to be held[2] from three weeks to three weeks, to which the lord of Childwall, the lord of the moiety of Harwoode, the lord of Wythington, the lord of Pilkington and Undesworth, the lord of Burnill, the lord of Rumworthe and Lostoke, the lord of Lever, the lord of Ashton under Lyne, the lord of the moiety of Harwoode, and the lord of Worthington, owe suit of court and are called judges of the [court of][3] Mamcestre by custom from ancient time ; with tol, them, infangenthefe, outfangenthefe, in the which any trespass whereby the peace of the lord or of the bailiffs is broken, can be impleaded at the suit of the lord's bailiffs and at the suit of the party ; the perquisites of which in pleas, fines and amercements [with the Halmotes of Barton, Heton and the hamlets of Mamecestre][4] are worth yearly £5. Be it known that pleas there shall by custom be pleaded according to (juxta) the common law[5].

There is also there a portmote of the burgesses of Mamcestre to be held four times a year, to the which each burgess, or his firstborn son, or his wife, shall come four times a year without essoin at the summons of the said borough ; and if need be a laghmote can be held between every halmote[6] for expediting the right of complainants ; in the which portmote amends of the assize of bread and ale broken ought to be made ; and if any burgess shall be found in default because he comes not, or another for him, touching trespass or this kind of [offence] against the lord or against any other by plea in the said portmotes or laghmotes[7], ought to be amerced at 12*d*. and not more, except in case[8] he has wounded anyone between (ab) the ninth hour of Saturday unto

And there is there a market to be held each Saturday throughout the year [3] and a fair to be held on the eve of St. Matthew the apostle unto the morrow of the same feast, for three whole days, which is worth in toll and stallage [and this kind of profit (hujusmodi)] [4] £6. 13*s*. 4*d*.

Sum £12. 6*s*. 8*d*.

Pleas and Perquisites. — There is a halmote there [in Healon Norris] to be held by the will of the lord and because the demesne lands are demised to tenants at farm therefore the fines for entry and other uncertain profits of this kind are worth [only] 3*s*. 4*d*. yearly; and those who hold land for a term shall choose at the lord's command one serjeant to keep the wood, wastes and other things of this kind to the lord's use, taking nothing except by courtesy. Sum 3*s*. 4*d*.

And they ought to be maintained throughout the whole year by the townships lying adjacent to the forest, viz:

By 8 oxgangs of land in Lostocke, 14 oxgangs of land in Rumworth, 4 oxgangs of land in Heton under the forest, 3 oxgangs of land in Haliwell, 4 oxgangs of land in Sharples, 2 oxgangs of land in Longworth and 7 oxgangs of land in Anderton; so that in the whole there are 40 [rectius 42] oxgangs of land which shall support the said foresters in bread, drink, and eatables (edulis), as abovesaid; and at the yearly season when the sparrow-hawks begin to prepare their nests, the said townships upon warning by the foresters shall gather themselves in Horewichley and from thence shall go on oath through the whole forest to view how many nests are built, and from the time of this view the foresters shall continue day and night in the forest watching (servientes) the nests until the feast of St. Barnabas (11 June); and each oxgang holder (bovatarius) [3] shall find for those warders in day time (in tempore diei) 6 oaten loaves and 1*d*. [worth] of eatables; and on the said day of St. Barnabas when the sparrow-hawks shall be parted (disclusi), the said townships shall come into the forest to take the sparrow-hawks' poults (pullos) from the nests and deliver every one of them to the foresters or to other of the lord's bailiffs there present; and if they make default in any article of the said customs they shall be put to plea by the foresters in the court of Mancestre and there punished according to law and custom. Concerning the custom of ploughing, be it known that every oxgang of arable land of ancient [tillage] and not of new ridding (de novo assarto), both of Nicholas de Longford and of his tenants and all others in Whithington, Dittesbury, Barlowe, Chollerton, Denton and Halcton, shall plough in the demesnes of Mamecestre wheresoever they may be assigned half an acre of land, if the possessor of that oxgang at that time have a plough; and he shall take from the lord one penny for the work, except (praeter) one oxgang of land which Sir Henry de Trafford holds, called Const[able] [4] oxgang; so that altogether there are about 25 oxgangs of land with that oxgang; and all those oxgangs except that of Henry de Trafford shall jointly find in autumn every year 36 [5] reapers twice for one day to reap the CXIII. RENTAL OF THE LANDS OF THOMAS, EARL OF LANCASTER, AND OF ROBERT DE HOLAND, IN CO. LANCASTER, A. D. 1322.

[RENTAL AND SURVEYS, ROLL 379[2]; SUPPLEMENTED BY A SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT RETURN PRESERVED IN DODSWORTH'S MSS., CXXXI, FF. 33-44 (A); KUERDEN'S MSS., CHETHAM LIB., A TO Z (B); LANSDOWNE MSS. NO. 599, FF. 1-13 (C); AND TOWNELEY'S MSS., VOL. HH., FF. 1153-74 penes W. Farrer (D).]

[1] Adding the totals of the various headings, exclusive of the services of tenants, the sum amounts to £164. 2*s.* 0¾*d.* leaving £32. 8*s.* 7¼*d.* for the last named item; towards which the recorded services in money add to £15. 7*s.* 0½*d.*

[2] This roll consists of 14 membranes, some in bad condition, and dated 17 Edward II, except membranes 5 and 14, which are dated 18 Edward II. But internal evidence shows that the rental was probably compiled in June, 1322 (15 Edward II), for instance, Simon de Walton, who succeeded his father William de Walton on 1 June, 1322, is named as holding Walton on the Hill and other estates, and Roger de Middleton who died 16 August, in the same year, is named as still in possession of his estates. This return is printed WRIT[1] dated at York, 18 May, 15th year (1322), directed to John Travers (and others), keepers of the castles, manors, towns and lands, late of Thomas, sometime earl of Lancaster and of other rebels in the county of Lancaster, which are in the king's hands, to make an extent thereof, to wit, of their yearly value in demesnes, villeinages, homages, services, rents and all other issues; and to enquire what lands are forfeitures to the king without claim, and what have claims lodged against them; what are worth keeping in the king's hands for stock and other profits; what would be better let to farm to tenants and at what rates and terms; also as to those lands kept in the king's hands, at what farm they would let; also how much great wood and underwood could be sold without waste or destruction, and what other profits could be made thereof; and to certify the king hereof this side of the quindene of Midsummer. Cal. Patent R., 1321-4, p. 161.

MEMB. 8. — FOREIGN RENT OF DERBYSCHERE.

William le Botiler holds the manors of Weryngton, Sonky, Penketh, Ryxton, Glasebrok, Culcheth, Tyldeslegh, Pynyngton, Bedefford, Atherton, Halsale, Ines, Lydeyate, Egergarth, Wyndihull, half a ploughland in Barton, 2 ploughlands in Thornton, and renders yearly at Christmas and Midsummer for all things, whereof 20*s.* for ward of the castle of Lancaster, 26*s.* 9½*d.*

William le Boteler of Werington holds the manors [named above] by homage and the service of 26*s.* 8*d.* yearly at the in ordinary type. A somewhat different return, apparently belonging to the same year, which was printed by Mr. Matthew Gregson in his Fragments (ed. 1824), where it is incorrectly described as the 'Birch Feodary', is given pari passu in smaller type.

The accounts of John de Lancaster, who began to render account of the issues of the lands of Thomas, earl of Lancaster, from Michaelmas, 1323, are based upon this rent roll. See below. This will be seen by comparing the detailed items of the rent roll with the various corresponding items in John de Lancaster's accounts. Attention is drawn in the former to items 'for which no heads are found in the account'. It is not clear what these amounts consisted of, or whence they arose. A careful comparison of the two rolls may furnish a clue.

The roll consists of 14 membranes, as follows: — memb. 1. Skerton, Overton, Slyne, Hest, Bolton; m. 2. Singleton, Ribby; m. 3. Crosby; m. 4. CXVII. ROGER DE MIDDELTON.

WRIT dated at Alnwick, 18 August, 16th year (1322) directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken at Midilton, on Monday the eve of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, 16 Edward II [13 September, 1322] before Thomas de Burgh, escheator, by Thomas de Chorleton, William de Honford, Alexander de Denton, Henry de Moston, Richard de Bexwyk, Robert de Ancotis, Henry de Stakil, Roger del Hogh, William le Hunt, William de Longelegh, Robert de Riorraies [1], and William del Dam, who say that the said Roger held of the king in chief, by reason of the lands and tenements formerly of Thomas, earl of Lancaster as of the lordship of Totynton, which was of the inheritance of Henry de Lacy, formerly earl of Lincoln, the manor of Middelton jointly with Agnes his wife to them (sibi) and the heirs male which Roger should beget of the body of Agnes, that is, the chief messuage worth nothing yearly beyond reprises, 80*a*. of land in demesne worth 53*s*. 4*d*. yearly, 10*a*. of meadow worth 10*s*. yearly, but nothing this year because they were mown before Roger's death, 10*a*. of several pasture 20*d*. yearly, the moiety of 100*a*. of wood held in common with the lady of Bury, the herbage of which lies in common pasture for the tenants of Bury and Middelton worth nothing yearly, pannage of that moiety worth 40*d.* one year with another, a water mill worth 13*s.* 4*d.* yearly, assized rents receivable by the hands of free tenants at Midsummer and St. Martin 46*s.* 10*d.*, rents receivable by the hands of certain term holders (terminarii) there at the feast of St. Oswald the king 14*s.* yearly. Roger held nothing of others. The said manor is worth in all issues £7. 2*s.* 6*d.* yearly. If Roger died without heir male of the body of Agnes the manor and belongings would remain to [Matilda daughter of the said Roger and the heirs of her body, in default] [1] to Elena sister of Matilda and the heirs of her body, in default to Alice sister of Elena and the heirs of her body, in default to Margar[et] sister of Alice and the heirs of her body, in default to Margery sister of Margaret and the heirs of her body, in default to Joan sister of Margery and the heirs of her body, in default to the right heirs of the said Roger, as set forth in two fines levied in the king's court [2]. Roger held the manor jointly with the said Agnes of the king by homage and the service of one knight's fee, and by suit at the county of Lancaster, and wapentake of Salford and at the court of Totynton from three weeks to three weeks, and by 10*s.* yearly at the term of Midsummer for ward of Lancaster castle and by 13*s.* 4*d.* yearly for Sacfe at the terms of Christmas, the Annunciation, Midsummer and Michaelmas. The said Elena, aged 20 years, Matilda aged 18 years, Alice aged 16 years, Margaret aged 12 years, and Margery aged 9 years are the daughters of Roger and are his next heirs, as of blood. Joan died without issue [3].

[16 EDW. II, No. 135].

WRIT to Gilbert de Singelton and John de Lancaster, to inquire as to a feoffment made by William de Etheliswyk. Dated ad Alnewyk, 9 August, 16th year (1322).

Inquest taken at Gayristang, on Monday next before Michaelmas, 16 Edward II [27 September, 1322], before the said Gilbert and John, by the oath of John le Taillour, William de Etheleston, John de Mirescogh, Gilbert de Howayth, John de Billesburgh, William de Cotum, Richard de Crauen, Henry de Blakeburne, Richard de Rediford,

[1] There is an omission in the record.
[2] See Lancs. Fines, part ii. 17, 24, 30.
[3] See Cal. Close R. 1318-23, 598. Writ of amoveas manus, dated 1 Oct. 1322. Roger de Middleton died 16 August, 16th year (1322); Escheator's Acct., 3-25.

Thomas de Staunford, John de Hegham, John del Yate, and Richard de Morylegh ; who say that William de Etheleswyk, enfeoffed Thomas de Singelton and Joan his wife and the heirs of Thomas, of 3 messuages, one horse mill and 2 oxgangs of land in Etheleswyk [Elswick], and the said Thomas and Joan bound themselves and the heirs of Thomas to William during his life, to provide him with honourable and decent sustenance in victuals like as their free men were sustained in their household, and in one cloak yearly at Christmas of the same style as their free servants had, and in 4*s.* 6*d.* for shoes at Michaelmas. Of which sustenance William was peacefully seised during the life of the said Thomas, and after his death during Joan's life. After Thomas's death the reversion of the tenements descended to Joan his sister and heir ; from Joan to William [Banastre] her son and heir ; and from William to Adam son of William Banastre as son and heir, who is within age. After the death of the said Joan, formerly the wife of Thomas, the tenements came by descent of inheritance to the said Adam son of William, as next of kin and heir of the said Thomas, and by reason of his minority were seized into the hands of Thomas, formerly earl of Lancaster, in the name of custody, and by his forfeiture came to the king's hands in the name of custody. The said William was fully seised of his said sustenance without any change of his estate until the tenements came into the king's hands. The tenements are held of the king, by reason of the lands and tenements which belonged to the said earl of Lancaster, being in the king's hands by the earl's forfeiture, by the service of the 32nd part of one knight's fee, and are worth yearly in all issues 60*s.* The said William has been without his sustenance from the feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 15 Edward II [12 March, 1322] until the day of the taking of this inquest [1].

[1] To the keeper of the forfeited lands in co. Lancaster. Whereas it is found by an inquest taken by Gilbert de Singelton and John de Lancastre that William de Etheleswyk enfeoffed Thomas de Singelton and Joan his wife by an indented deed of 3 messuages, a mill, and 2 oxgangs of land in Etheleswyk, on condition that they should find him honourable maintenance such as free men received in their house during his life, to wit a robe at Christmas yearly of the suit of their free servants, and that they should pay him 4*s.* 6*d.* yearly at Michaelmas for shoeleather, and that he was seised of the above during the life of Thomas, and after his death, during the life of Joan, and that after their deaths, and the deaths of Joan, sister and heiress of Thomas, and of William, her son and heir, the tenements descended to Adam son of William Banastre, kinsman and heir of Thomas, and that they came to the hands of Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, by reason of Adam's minority, because the said Thomas de Singelton held them of the earl

He also held in his demesne, &c. a windmill, 9*a.* 1½*r.* of land in the same town of the heirs of Richard Russel by the service of one arrow and one pair of white gloves yearly at Midsummer. The mill is worth 20*s.* yearly, and each acre 8*d.* He also held in his demesne, &c. certain tenements in Staynolf of Adam, son and heir of William Banastre, who is under age and in ward to the king, by the service of one barbed arrow yearly for all service, and of the abbot of Cokersand by the service of 12*d.* yearly; there is a capital messuage there worth 2*s.* yearly, 4 oxgangs of land worth 64*s.* yearly. He also held 10*a.* of land in Stalmyn of Nicholas de Oxclif by knight's service; they are worth 5*s.* yearly; one messuage and half an oxgang of land in Northcrosse of the abbot of Cokersand by the said service of 12*d.*; they are worth 10*s.* yearly; 7*a.* of land in Rouhale [Rohall in Catterall] of Richard de Hoghton by knight's service; they are worth 10*s*; one messuage and 2½*a.* of land in Hamelton of Richard de Hakuneshou in socage; they are worth 3*s.* yearly; certain tenements in Werington of Sir William le Botiller without doing any service for the same; there are two burgages there worth 4*s.* yearly, 3 acres of land worth 4*s.* 6*d.* yearly, another burgage and one acre of land which a certain physician (medicus) holds and renders 4*s.* 6*d.* yearly, half a burgage which Nicholas Boton holds and renders 6*d.*, half a burgage which Alice, widow of Gilbert son of Gilbert holds and renders 6*d.* He also held, &c. 8*s.* rent to be received from the tenants of William le Botiller in Marton, from tenements which formerly belonged to Emery son of Simon de Thornton, and which are now in the hands of the said William; the rent is a certain charged rent (redditus est quidam redditus oneratus) and is held of the said William without any service for the same. Roger le Waleys and Agnes his wife hold certain tenements in Little Laton of the heirs of the said Richard for term of the life of the said Agnes; they are worth 66*s.* 8*d.* Richard, son of the said Richard le Botiller is his next heir and of the age of 4 years.[1]

CXXIV. MARMADUKE DE TWENGE. Inq. p. m.

[16 EDW. II, No. 51.]

WRIT dated at Aberford 26 February, 16th year (1323), directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator beyond Trent.

Inquest made at Kirkeby Kendale, co. Westmorland, before Thomas de Burgh, escheator, by the oath of the jury, who say that the said Marmaduke de Twenge. . . . . or tenements in his demesne as of fee within the county of Westmorland on the day of his death. William de Tweng is his son and next heir and of the age of 30 years.

They also say that the said Marmaduke de Tweng some time held of the king in chief, the lands and tenements underwritten within the county of Westmorland (together with one acre of land and 80*s.* and 12*d.* of rent in Warton, Kerneford [Carnforth], Helhale [Ellel], Caterhale, Esseton [Ashton], Stodehagh, Scodeford, Tyrum [Thurnham] and Rotheclif [Rawcliffe] in the county of Lancaster[2] by homage, fealty, and the service of the moiety of three fourths of one knight's fee, that is to say, the manor of Helsington, [the

[2] To Thomas de Burgh, escheator this side Trent. Order not to distrain William de Tweng, son of Marmaduke de Tweng, for his homage, and not to intermeddle further with the following lands which he has taken into the king's hands by reason of Marmaduke's death, and to restore the issues thereof, the king learning by inquest taken by the escheator that Marmaduke long before his death granted to William for life by the king's licence certain lands in Helsyngton and Kirkeby in Kendale, Warton and Kerneforth [Carnforth], Hell.... [Ellel], Katerhale [Catterall], Esseton [Ashton], Stodehagh, Tyrom [Thurnham] and Rotheclif [Rawcliffe], which Marmaduke formerly held in chief by knight's service, and that William was seised thereof long before Marmaduke's death, and that Marmaduke held in his demesne as of fee the manor of Holm in Holdernesse of the chapter of St. John of Beverley and that he did not hold any lands of the king at his death by reason whereof the custody of his lands ought to pertain to the king, and that William is said William, to hold of the king and his heirs in chief . . . . . [1].

[16 Edw. II, No. 32.]

WRIT dated at York, 16 May, 15th year (1322), directed to Master John Walewayn, escheator beyond Trent.

Inquest taken before the king's escheator at Soppeleie [Sopley] on Saturday next after the feast of the Invention of the Holy Cross, 16 Edward II [7 May, 1323]. The jurors say that it is not to the injury of the king or others if the king shall grant to Thomas Broun that he may retain one messuage, 50 acres of land, 18*a*. of meadow, 9*a*. of pasture, 30*s*. rent, and the moiety of one mill in Soppeleie [Sopley, co. Hants] which he acquired of Edmund le Butiller; to hold to Thomas for life, of the king and his heirs, by the services therefor due and accustomed. The said tenements are held of the king in chief by the service of the 8th part of one knight's fee, and are worth yearly in all issues, beyond the said services, 67*s*. 10*d*. There remained to the said Edmund, beyond the said tenements, the manor of Wythynton [Weeton] co. Lanc., held of the king by his son and heir and is of full age, as the king has taken William's homage for the lands that Marmaduke formerly held of the king. At Rothwell, 15 May, 16th year (1323). Cal. Close R. 1318-23, 650.

To John de Lancastre, keeper of certain lands in co. Lancaster. Order not to distrain William, son of Marmaduke de Tweng, for his homage for the lands that Marmaduke held of the king, and to release any distress that he may have made in this behalf, as the king, on 25 May, in the 16th year of his reign, ordered Thomas de Burgh, escheator beyond Trent, not to distrain William for his homage, because it was found by inquest taken by the said Thomas that Marmaduke, long before his death, granted to William for life, certain lands in Helsyngton, Kirkeby in Kendale, Warton, Kerneford, Hellehale, Caterhale, Esseton, Stodehagh, Tyrom and Rothecliff, which Marmaduke held of the king by knight service, and that William was seised thereof long before Marmaduke's death, and that Marmaduke held in his demesne as of fee the manor of Holm in Holdernesse of the chapter of St. John's Beverley, and that he did not hold any lands of the king at his death by reason whereof the custody of his lands ought to pertain to the king, and that William is his son and heir and is of full age, the king having previously taken William's homage for the lands that Marmaduke thus held of the king. Gloucester, 23 Jan., 17th year (1324). Cal. Close R. 1323-7, 55.

Marmaduke de Twenge died 20 February, 16th year (1323); the king's hand was removed from the tenements 15 May following; Escheator's Acct., 3-26.

baronage, and worth yearly £50, and the manor of Shire [1], co. Surrey, held of the earl of Warren by the service of two knights' fees, and worth yearly £22.

WRIT dated 20 February, 16 Edw. (1323), directed to John de Travers and Gilbert de Singleton. Whereas Adam de Swilyngton and Margery his wife, who was the wife of Roger de Pilkington, have prayed us that whereas the same Margery with Roger formerly her husband was jointly enfeoffed of the third part of a certain mill in Redyich in the tenth year of our reign, and continued her seisin peaceably from the time of the feoffment with Roger formerly her husband until the day when Roger was taken, because he was said to be an adherent of Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, an enemy and rebel to us ; now the said part with other lands and tenements of the said Roger, for the reason aforesaid is in our hand, that we would cause the said part to be restored to them ; to certify the king in that behalf

Inquest taken at Wigan on Monday the morrow of Holy Trinity, 16 Edward II [23 May, 1323], before John Trauers and Gilbert de Singilton by the oath of Adam de Bradeschagh, John de Tonge, Simon de Bradeschagh, Roger de Walmersleye, Henry de Notthagh, John de Trafford, Thomas de Hullum, Richard le Valentyn, Richard del Withevse, Simon del Slake, Roger de Schotleswerth and Richard de Shipwallebothum, who say that a certain Ralph de Upton, clerk, being seised in his demesne as of fee of the third part of that mill with the appurtenances in Redych, in the tenth year of the reign of the present king enfeoffed Roger de Pilkington and Margery then his wife of the third part of the said mill with other lands and tenements, and to the heirs of their bodies, in default to remain to the right heirs of the said Roger. Margery peaceably continued her seisin thereof with the aforesaid Roger formerly her husband, until the day that the same Roger was taken, because he was said to be an adherent of Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, an enemy and rebel of the king, and for that reason the third part of the mill with other lands and tenements of Roger and Margery were seised into the hand of the king. The third part of the mill is held of John de Kyrkeby by homage and knight's service, namely by the service of one halfpenny as scutage on forty shillings, for all service. [1]

[16 EDW. II, No. 25.]

WRIT dated at York, 5 May, 16th year (1323), directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken at Lancaster, on Tuesday next after the feast of Holy Trinity, 16 Edward II [24 May, 1323], before Thomas de Burgh, escheator, by the oath of Ranulph le Gentil, William de Oxcliff, Simon de Bolton, John Frauncays, Thomas son of John, Alan de Hesseton [Ashton], John de Balrig, Alan de Burgh, Thomas de Bygthwayt, Alan de Burgh, Thomas de Bygthwayt, John de Overton, Thomas

[1] To John Travers, keeper of certain of the rebels' lands in co. Lancaster. Order not to intermeddle further with the undermentioned lands, &c. and to restore the issues thereof to Margery, late the wife of Roger de Pilkyngton, as the king learns by inquest taken by John de Lancastre and Gilbert de Sengleton that Margery was enfeoffed jointly with her said husband by a fine levied in the 13th year [Lancs. Fines, ii, 33, no. 100] of two parts of the manors of Pilkyngton and Chetham; and by another fine [Ibid. no. 106] of the third part of the said manors, a sixth part of the manor of Barton and a seventh part of the manor of Crompton; and that the said Margery was enfeoffed jointly with her husband of 20 acres of land in Farneword by John son of John de Levre in the 10th year of the king's reign; and of a messuage, 10 acres of land and a moiety of a waste in Great Levre by Robert son of Roger de Middelton in the 4th year of the reign; and of a messuage and an acre of land in Hunnersfeld by Robert le Litster of Milnehouse in the 10th year of the reign; and of a messuage and 5 acres of land in Spotlond by William del Grenebothes in the 8th year of the reign; and that Margery continued her seisin of the above from the time of the feoffments until the day when Roger, her husband, was taken for his alleged adherence to certain of the rebels, without changing her estate, and that the said premises are held of others than the king. Tutbury, 13 Nov., 16th year (1322). Cal. Close R. 1318-23, 610.

To the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer. Reciting the above fines and feoffments and the said order; and whereas the king now learns from the complaint of Adam de Swylington, who has married the said Margery, and of Margery, that although the said keeper amoved the king's hand from the said manors and lands and delivered the issues to Margery, the sheriff of that county distrains Adam and Margery in the said manors and lands by reason of a fine of £200 that Roger made with the king for his trespass aforesaid after the levying of the fines and the feoffments aforesaid; the king therefore orders the treasurer and barons to cause the demand upon Adam and Margery to be superseded entirely, provided that the money be levied from the other lands that belonged to Roger on the day when he adhered to the rebels. Cowick, 9 May, 16th year (1323) Ibid. 648.

de Rigmayden, and William son of Robert de Midilton, who say that William de Burgh of Midilton held on the day of his death, of the king in chief, the third part of the manor of Midilton with the appurtenances, except 3 oxgangs of land in the same for the term of his life, by the grant of one Alexander le Walays to the aforesaid William, made by fine in the court of the king at Westminster on the Octave of St. Hilary, 10 Edward II [20 January, 1317], so that after the death of William the third part should remain to William son of the said William and Joan his wife, and the heirs of William begotten of the body of Joan, to hold of the chief lords of the fee by the service due from the said third part for ever. By virtue of which fine William father of William held the third part for the whole of his life without any change of his estate. The said William also held of the king in chief one oxgang of land with the appurtenances in the third part of the manor of Midilton, to him and the heirs of his body, begotten of Emma formerly his wife. And he also held of the king in chief [by the render] of one pair of spurs to be received by the hands of Edmund de Nevill and his heirs at Michaelmas yearly from one oxgang of land which Edmund held of him in the same manor and the rent of one penny yearly from one oxgang of land which John de Overton held of him in the same manor, to be received yearly at Michaelmas, of which rents he was seised in his demesne as of fee on the day of his death. He held all these tenements of the king, by homage and the service of the 12th part of one knight's fee, and 8½*d.* for ward of Lancaster castle, yearly at Midsummer, and doing suit at the 6 weeks' court of Lancaster, and at the 3 weeks' court of the wapentake of Lonisdal. The tenements are worth yearly in all issues . . . . . 8*d.* William de Burgh is son and next heir of the said William, and was of the age of 23 years . . . . . May (?) in the year aforesaid [1].

[17 EDW. II., No. 121.]

WRIT dated at York, 6 May, 16th year (1323), directed to John Travers, John de Lancastre, and William de Tatham.

Inquest taken at [West] Derby co. Lanc., on Thursday next after the feast of Holy Trinity, 16 Edward II [26 May, 1323], before the said John, John and William, by Roger de Toxtath, Robert de Blakbourn, Henry Travers, John de Sherdilegh, Richard del Wodefall, William le Demand, Robert de Fasacrelegh, William le Wodeward, Alan del Snap, Adam de Shirwalaccres, Robert del Yate, and John del Ryding, jurors ; who say that Robert de Holand held the manor of Little Wolveton, 6 April, 15 Edward II [1322], on which day the said manor was taken into the king's hands, for the term of the life of the said Robert, by the demise of one brother William de Tothale, prior of the hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, predecessor of the present prior, rendering therefor to the prior and his successors during the said Robert's life, 20 marks yearly at Michaelmas. The said manor is held of Alice de Lascy, daughter and heir of the earl of Lincoln, in frankalmoign, without rendering any service to the said Alice, and is worth yearly in all issues 23 marks. Robert only had the manor at will of the prior, without the assent of his chapter.

[1] Much rubbed and the writing illegible in places.

WRIT dated at Notingham 18 November, 17th year (1323) directed to Gilbert de Syngelton, John de Lancastre and William de Tatham.

Inquest taken at [West] Derby, before Gilbert de Syngelton and John de Lancastre, on Thursday in the morrow of St. Peter in Cathedra, 17 Edward II [23 February 1324] by the oath of Adam de Bikerstath, Roger de Toxstath, John de la Ford, John de Gosefordsich, Richard de Burscogh, John de Sherdiley, Richard del Wodfall, John de Cross (Cruce) of Lathum, Thomas son of Stephen de Duttun, Gilbert de Aspinwall, and Simon de Aspinwall ; who say that one brother William de Tothale, formerly prior of the hcspital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, demised to one Roger de Fulshawe for life the manor of Little Wolveton, with the assent and will of his chapter, rendering to the prior and brethren, 20 marks yearly at Michaelmas. Roger, having full seisin, with the assent of the prior, granted his estate in the manor to Robert de Holand. and rendered his writing to the prior, who without the assent of his chapter surrendered that writing to Robert in the name of seisin of the said manor. Roger died at the feast of Easter, 10 Edward II [3 April 1317]. Robert, after the death of Roger, as well in the time of prior William as in the time of Richard Pauely, his successor, and likewise of the present prior, continued his possession of the manor, at the will of the priors, without the assent of their chapter, and without any writing thereof to him made by any of the priors, until the day on which the manor was seised into the king's hands by Robert's forfeiture.

CXXIX.

To John Travers, keeper of certain contrariants' lands in co. Lancaster. As the king learns by inquest taken by the keeper and by John de Lancastre that William de Hoton at Martinmas in the 11th year [1317] demised to Robert de Dalton for life 3 messuages and 60 acres of land in Maudesleye, rendering therefor 6 marks yearly and that the messuages and lands were seised into the king's hands on Saturday before the Annunciation in the 15th year [20 March, 1322], and that William held them of John Flemyng by homage and fealty and the service of 2*s.* yearly and that they are worth 82*s.* yearly in all issues and that they were seised into the king's hands because Richard (sic) was with Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, and adhered to him and that William was seised of the rent aforesaid without changing his estate therein from the time of the demise until the said Saturday ; the king orders the keeper to satisfy William for the arrears of the rent from the time when the tenements were taken into the king's hands and to pay him the same whilst they so remain. Yale, 3 July, 16th year (1323). Cal. Close R. 1318-23, 664.

CXXX. WILLIAM DE WHITYNGHAM OF CLAGHTON. Inq. p. m.

[17 EDW. II, No. 54.]

WRIT dated at Holand 26 October, 17th year (1323), directed to Thomas de Burgh, escheator on this side Trent.

Inquest taken before the escheator at Eukeston co. Lanc. on Tuesday next before the feast of St. Clement the Pope, 17 Edward II [22 November, 1323], by William de Standissh, Thomas de Longetre, William de Faryngton, John de Cophull, Robert de Heskyn, Thomas de Clayton, William de Hoghwyk, Richard Banastre, Warin de Heskyn, Adam de Hoghwyk, John del Faldeworthinges and Robert son of Roger, jurors, who say that William de Holand of Eukeston held no lands or tenements of the king in chief the day he died, but he held certain lands and tenements in Eukeston of Robert de Holand, now held of the king in socage by the forfeiture of the said Robert ; there is a manor worth yearly in easement of houses and profit of gardens 40*d* ; 62 acres of arable land in demesne each acre worth 12*d.* yearly — sum 62*s* ; an acre of meadow worth 2*s.* yearly ; a water mill worth one year with another 60*s* ; the tenements are now held of the king in chief as of the fee of Penwortham in socage, namely by fealty, and suit at the six weeks' court at Lancaster, and at the three weeks' wapentake of Laylandshire, and by the service of one pound of cumin at Midsummer for all service.

He also held in his demesne as of fee certain lands and tenements of the master of the hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, in socage, in the town of Eukeston by the service of 6*s.* 2*d.* yearly at Michaelmas, for all service ; there are 50 acres of arable land in demesne, each worth 12*d.* yearly, — sum 50*s* ; 6*a.* of meadow each worth 2*s.* 6*d.* yearly — sum 15*s* ; a certain inclosed hay containing 30*a.* of waste and 30*a.* of wood, worth yearly in agistment of beasts and other profits 40*s* ; also certain lands and tenements in the town of Ulneswalton of the heirs of Henry de Lascy, late earl of Lincoln, now held of the king by the grant of Alesia, daughter and heir of the said earl, in socage, by the service of one penny yearly at Michaelmas for all service; a cottage with a garden worth yearly 18*d*; 16*a*. of arable land each worth yearly 12*d*. — sum 16*s*; also certain lands and tenements in the town of Ellale of the heirs of Marmaduke de Tweng by knight's service, namely by fealty and suit at the 6 weeks' court of Lancaster and at the 3 weeks' wapentake of Lonesdale, and by 4*s*. when scutage runs at 40*s*; by the service of the third part of 10*d*. yearly at Christmas for ward of the castle of Kirkeby in Kendale, co. Westmorland; and there is the third part of a manor worth yearly in time of peace in easement of houses and profit of gardens 10*s*, but now only 40*d*. because wasted by the Scots; in demesne are 69*a*. of arable land each worth yearly in time of peace 12*d*. but now only 8*d*. — sum 46*s*; 7*a*. of meadow in demesne each worth yearly 5*s*. — sum 35*s*; in demesne are 12*a*. of several wood, each acre worth 4*d*. yearly — sum 4*s*; and an inclosed hay which contains 48*a*. of waste worth yearly in agistment of beasts 14*s*; and the third part of a water mill worth yearly 53*s*. 4*d*; 30 cottages held at will each worth yearly in time of peace 18*d*, but now only 8*d*. because burned by the Scots. — sum 20*s*; 300*a*. of arable land which tenants at will hold, each acre worth yearly 6*d*. — sum £9.

He also held certain lands and tenements in Neusum in Aumondernesse in socage of the heirs of Stopporth [Stockport] by the service of 2*s*. yearly . . . ; a messuage worth yearly in easement of houses 12*d*; 32*a*. . . . . ., each worth yearly 14*d*. — sum 37*s*. 4*d*; 3*a*. . . . . ., each worth 4*d*. yearly, — sum 12*d*; a water mill worth . . . . . .

Robert son of the said William is his next heir aged [11 years and 20 weeks] [1].

CXXXVII. ROBERT DE HOLAND. Inq. a. q. d.

[17 EDW. II, No. 62.]

WRIT dated at Holand, 19 October, 17th year (1323), directed to John de Lancastre and William de Tatham.

[1] To the escheator in co. Lanc. Order to deliver to William de Scargil and Joan his wife, mother of Robert de Holand, son and heir of William de Holand as nearest [friends] of the heir, the lands that William de Holand held in socage [as above] together with the issues from the time of his death and not to intermeddle further with the lands that he held of other lords. Cal. Close R., 1324-7, 65.

Inquest taken at Penwortham before John de Lancastre and William de Tatham, on Saturday next after the Octave of St. Hilary, 17 Edward II [20 January, 1324], by the oath of William Banastre, John son of Geoffrey de Waleton, William le Feuer of Samlesbury, William son of Thomas, Adam son of Roger, Roger son of Thomas, Gilbert del Clif, Alexander de Longeley, Adam de Balshagh, Robert le Fermon, Roger son of John, and Adam le Walker, jurors, who say that goods and chattels of the king in the manor of Samlesbury, which was Robert de Holande's and by his forfeiture came to the king's hand, were taken by the Scots and carried away towards Scotland, and wholly dispersed by the sudden coming of the said Scots and not by the negligence of William de Holdene then keeper of the manor :—viz. 2 wains, price 4*s* ; 18 oxen, price 13*s*. 4*d*. each ; 55 'aketones', price £11 ; 100 lances, price 20*s* ; 30 'polhaches', price 10*s* ; 4 poor saddles for rounceys, price 4*s* ; 4 reins for rounceys, price 12*d* ; 4 poor targes (targia), price 4*d* ; 2 vestments for the chapel, price 12*s* ; a chalice, price 10*s* ; a missal, price 6*s*. 8*d* ; a psalter, price 2*s*. ; 7 brasen pots (olle), large and small, price 53*s*. 4*d*. ; a bowl, price 18*d*. ; a laver (lavator), price 12*d* ; a pan (patella), price 12*d* ; a coverlet for a bed, price 2*s* ; 3 cloths for covering beds, price 3*s* ; 2 sheets, price 20*d*. [1].

The goods and chattels which belonged to the said William de Holdene, to the value of £5 found in the custody of Alice formerly the wife of the said William, were seized into the king's hand by John Travers, late keeper of the king's lands in the county of Lancaster and there now remain, because it was given him to understand that the king's goods and chattels had been seized and dispersed by the Scots through the negligence of William de Holdene and not by any other cause.

[17 EDW. II, No. 86.]

WRIT, dated at Nottingham, 18 November, 17th year (1323), directed to the escheator, on the complaint of Katherine widow of Alan de Singelton who says that John de Scotia 'Harpur', bastard, who died without heir, held lands of Alan by certain services, which after Alan's death were assigned to her in dower.

Inquest taken on Monday in Easter week, 17 Edward II [16 April, 1324], by the oath of William de Etheliston, William de Wytingham, John le Taillour, Robert de Presso,

[1] See Cal. Close R., 1323-7, 208.

William de Etheliston, Paulin de Eccleston, Henry le Herice (?), Robert de Pulton, ... de . . . more, ... son of David, Roger de Pulton, Alan de Werton, who say, that John de Scotia 'Harpur', bastard, who died without heir, held of Alan de Singelton, formerly the husband of Katherine de Singelton, a messuage and 5½ acres of land with the appurtenances in Le Wra, to him and his heirs for ever, by fealty and 1*d.* yearly, of which services Alan was seised during his life, and after his death one Thomas de Singelton his son and heir assigned them to Katherine who was seised thereof until the death of John de Scotia, and after his death she entered into the premises because John died without heir. She remained in possession one week as her escheat and immediately afterwards the earl of Lancaster's bailiffs ejected her, entered into and continued in possession for 8 years before the earl's death. Neither Katherine nor her heirs have released to the earl their right in the lands, which are worth 6*s.* 8*d.* yearly.

CXXXIX. INGRAM DE GYNES. Inq. p. m.

WRIT, tested at Westminster, 25 March, 17th year (1324), directed to John de Bolingbrok, escheator in the counties of Warwick, Leicester, Nottingham, Derby and Lancaster.

Inquest taken before John de Bolingbrok, escheator, at Warton on Wednesday the eve of the Ascension of our Lord, 17 Edward II [23 May, 1324], by the oath of Robert de Wessyngton, Henry de Croft, Ralph de Bethum, Roger de Whitington, Roger de Cauncefeld, Thomas de Boulton, Roger de Duresslet, Simon de Boulton, John Fraunceys, Adam de Thornton, Walter del Sande, and Adam del Sande, jurors, who say that Ingram de Gynes held no lands or tenements in the county of Lancaster in his demesne as of fee on the day he died, but that he held in the said county the manor of Moureholm with the appurtenances, of the right and inheritance of Christiana formerly his wife, daughter and heir of William de Lyndesay, who survives, of the king in chief as of the county of Lancaster, by homage and the service of 20*d.* for ward of Lancaster castle, to be paid yearly at Midsummer, and doing suit at the 6 weeks' court of Lancaster, and at the 3 weeks' wapentake of Lancaster, and for the fourth part of one knight's fee, for all service ; the said manor of Moureholm in easement of houses and profit of the garden is yearly worth 12*d.*, and no more because it greatly needs repair ; there are 240 acres of arable land, each worth 4*d.* yearly — sum 80*s* ; 30*a.* of meadow, each worth 12*d.* yearly — sum 30*s.* ; a several pasture called Brodenges worth 12*d.* yearly and no more because the beasts in that part have been destroyed by murrain and led away by the Scots; another several pasture called Olreholme, worth 18*d.* yearly ; 16 oxgangs of land in the hands of tenants at will, each containing 10*a.* and yearly worth 6*s.* 8*d.* — sum £5. 6*s.* 8*d* ; the terms of payment at Whitsuntide and Martinmas by equal portions ; a water mill and the moiety of another water mill worth yearly 86*s.* 8*d.* at the same terms ; a free court held within the manor every three weeks, whereof the perquisites are worth one year with another, 6*s.* 8*d.* ; 3 cottages held at will, each worth 7*d.* yearly — sum 21*d.* at the same terms.

He also held as of the right and inheritance of Christiana his wife, in Kerneford [Carnforth] of the king in chief, as of the county of Lanc., 40*a.* of land belonging to the manor of Moureholm, each worth 4*d.* yearly — sum 13*s.* 4*d* ; 10*a.* of meadow, each worth 6*d.* yearly — sum 5*s* ; 3 tenants at will each holding a cottage and 3*a.* of land and rendering yearly 2*s.* 6*d.* — sum 7*s.* 6*d.* at the same terms.

The same Ingram and Christiana his wife held in Whitington for the term of their lives, 35*a.* of land of Baldwin de Gynes, each worth 6*d.* yearly — sum 17*s.* 6*d.* ; 6*a.* of poor meadow, each worth 6*d.* yearly — sum 2*s.* 6*d* ; a water mill worth 16*s.* yearly at the same terms ; 60*a.* of land in the hands of tenants at will which used to be worth 23*s.* 4*d.* yearly, and now only 11*s.* 8*d.* yearly and no more, because the land is poor and destroyed by the Scots ; a capital messuage with a plat adjacent in Assheton held of the said Baldwin, worth yearly 12*d* ; 60*a.* of land in demesne each worth 8*d.* yearly — sum 40*s* ; 5*a.* of meadow each worth 12*d.* yearly — sum 5*s.* ; the moiety of two water mills worth yearly 40*s.* at the same terms ; 8 tenants at will, each holding a messuage and 5½*a.* (of land), and rendering yearly 6*s.* 6*d.* at the same terms — sum 52*s.*

William de Gynes is son and next heir of Ingram and aged 36 years.

CXL. ROBERT SON OF RICHARD WYMARK OF DITTON. Inq. p. m.

[18 EDW. II, No. 6.]

WRIT, tested at Gloucester 20 January, 17th year (1324), directed to John de Bolyngbrok, escheator in the counties of Warwick, Leicester, Nottingham, Derby and Lancaster.

Inquest taken at [West] Derby, before the escheator in the county of Lancaster, on Thursday next before the feast of St. Mary Magdalene, 18 Edward II [19 July, 1324], by Adam de Bikerstath, Hugh de Pemberton, Robert le Norras, William de Urmeston, John de Gosefordsich, Alan son of Ranulph de Raynford, Richard de Stotfeldshagh, Adam de Par, Benedict del Lidyate, Walter de Aghton, John del Ford of Roby, and Ralph de Halsnade, who say that Robert son of Richard Wymark of Ditton held in fee the day he died, a messuage and two parts of an oxgang of land with the appurtenances in Ditton, of the king in chief by the forfeiture of Robert de Holand formerly lord of the manor of Westderby, co. Lancaster, by fealty and the service of 2*s.* yearly for all service; he held nothing by other tenure; the messuage and land are worth yearly in all issues 18*s.* Roger son of the said Robert is his next heir and will be aged 19 years at the feast of the Circumcision of our Lord next coming.

CXLI. HENRY DE TRAFFORD. Inq. a. q. d.

WRIT dated at the Tower of London, 15 June, 17th year (1324), directed to John de Bulyngbrok, escheator in the counties of Warwick, Leicester, Nottingham, Derby and Lancaster,

Inquest taken before John de Bolyngbrok, escheator, at Mancestre, on Friday in the feast of St. Matthew the Apostle, 18 Edward II [21 September, 1324] by the oath of Thomas de Hopwode, Robert de Assheton, William de Chaderton, Adam de Tetlowe, Robert de Hulm, Simon de Bradshagh, John de Chetham, Alexander le Mey, Robert de Aynsworth, Gilbert del Bromihurst, Thomas son of Richard de Irwulam, and Richard de Neuham, who say that it is not to the injury of the king or others, if the king grants to Henry de Trafford that he may enfeoff Henry, son of Adam de le Mulnegate, chaplain, of the manors of Trafford and Stretford and 12 messuages, 300 acres of land and 30*a.* of meadow, with the appurtenances in Wythinton co. Lancaster. So that the said Henry son of Adam, having full seisin thereof may give and grant the same to the said Henry de Trafford and Margaret his wife for their lives to hold of the king and his heirs by the services therefor due and accustomed; with remainder to Henry, son of John, son of Henry de Trafford, and his heirs in perpetuity, to hold as aforesaid. The manors are held of the king, by the services of 5*s.* yearly and suit at the county of Lancaster from three weeks to three weeks (sic), and worth yearly beyond the services 20 marks;

12 messuages, 260*a.* of land and 30*a.* of meadow in Wythinton, are held of Nicholas de Longford by the service of one penny yearly for all service, and are worth yearly 60*s.* and no more, because the land and meadow are of no value, and lie in the waste among gorse ; 40*a.* of land in the said town are held of the said Nicholas, by the service of 12*d.* for all service, and are worth yearly 6*s.* 8*d* ; no other lands or tenements remain to Henry de Trafford.

CXLII. ELLEN DE TORBOCK. Inq. a. q. d.

[18 EDW. II, No. 51.]

WRIT dated at Westminster, 3 May, 17th year (1324), directed to John de Lancastre and William de Tatham.

Inquest taken at Penwortham, before William de Tatham and John de Lancastre, on Monday next after the feast of the Nativity of B. V. M., 18 Edward II [10 September 1324], by the oath of Adam de Chernok, Alan de Melys, Robert de Heskyn, Thomas de Adlinton, William son of Robert de Worthington, William de Hoghwik, Adam de Hoghwik, Roger le Despencer, Thomas de Notesch[aw], John Busshell, John de Clayton, and William le Despencer, who say that Ellen de Torbok holds tenements in Whalshequithull [Welch Whittle] of the lord of Leylondeschire, that is to say, of dame Margaret Banastre, formerly the wife of Adam Banastre, and the said Margaret holds them of the king in chief ; Ellen owes no suit at the king's court of Penwortham for the tenements, because in the time of Henry de Lascy, late earl of Lyncoln, while he was lord of the fee of Penwortham, his then steward compelled Ellen to do suit at the court of Penwortham, and Ellen made fine with the steward to be respited from it by half a mark one year and 5*s.* in another, at the will of the steward ; and whilst Thomas, earl of Lancaster, was lord of the fee of Penwortham, as of the right of Alice his wife, his steward made coercion and Ellen made fine as aforesaid ; the earls were seised of the suit in no other manner.

CXLIII. RENTAL OF THE LANDS OF THOMAS, EARL OF LANCASTER, AND OF ROBERT DE HOLAND.

Account of William de Tatham, parson of the church of Halton, receiver of the issues of the lands and tenements which were of Thomas, late earl of Lancaster [1] and of other rebels and enemies of the king, appointed by letters patent dated 5 April, 15 Edward [II, 1322].

Memb. 68, 1st. skin, from 5 April to Michaelmas, 16th year [1322] A. memb, 69*d*. 1st skin, from Michaelmas, 16th year, to Michaelmas. 17th year [1323] B.

Account of John de Lancastre, keeper of the lands and tenements which were of Thomas, late earl of Lancastre, and others, appointed 15 July, 17th year [1323], memb. 76, 1st. skin, from Michaelmas, 17th year, to Michaelmas, 18th year [1324] C. At memb. 77d. 1st skin, from Michaelmas, 18th year, to Michaelmas, 19th year [1325] D. At memb. 55, 1st skin, from Michaelmas, 19th year to Michaelmas, 20th year [1326] E. At memb. 54d. 2nd skin and so to 7 December following [2] F.

LANCASTER AND AMOUNDERNESS.

MEMB. 76, 1ST SKIN. C [3] — ACCOUNT OF JOHN DE LANCASTRE, KEEPER OF THE LANDS AND TENEMENTS WHICH WERE OF THOMAS, LATE EARL OF LANCASTRE FROM MICHAELMAS 17TH YEAR [1323] TO THE SAME FEAST FOLLOWING IN THE 18TH YEAR [1324].

THE CASTLE AND TOWN OF LANCASTRE.

Herbage of the ditch around the castle this year 2*s*. [4]; of the issues of the site of the castle he does not answer because it was altogether burnt by the Scots as is contained in the extents made by Simon de Baldreston; farm of the town [5] of Lancastre t. Mich. £13. 6*s*. 8*d*; farm of 5 messuages and burgages there, viz; one messuage which Henry de Whytinton formerly held for which he rendered 8*d*. yearly, a burgage which was of the king's escheat and rendered 6*d*.,

[1] The battle of Boroughbridge was fought 16 March, and the earl of Lancaster executed 22 March, 1322.

[2] On 7 December, 1326, Edward II granted to his kinsman Henry, earl of Lancaster, the lands and possessions of Thomas, late earl of Lancaster.

[3] There are accounts for four whole consecutive years (B to E) ending at Michaelmas, 1326; a short account (A) covers the period from 5 April to Michaelmas, 1322, say 25 weeks, and a still shorter (F) that from Michaelmas to 7 December, 1326. As these accounts contain to a great extent a repetition of the same details, the best account (C), made after John de Lancastre had taken the place of William de Tatham, and based upon the extent which has been printed above (No. CXIII), has been selected and is here given in a somewhat condensed form, whilst additional matter, important variations of amount which illustrate progress or decay, from the other accounts have been added in foot notes.

[4] A.B. 'nil for default of animals'.

[5] A. 'rent of the borough.....' B. 'rent of the burgesses.

a messuage which Adam de Coupenwra formerly held which rendered 2*s.*, a house of the king's escheat which rendered 12*d.* with 6*d.* of increase, and a burgage of the serjeanty of Robert son of Roger de Skerton in Lancastre which Hugh Kaskel formerly held which rendered 12*d.* yearly, 8*s.* 8*d.*[1]; farm of burgages, lands and tenements which were William de Cathirton's in Lancastre and came into the hand of the earl of Lancastre by the death of the said William, t. Easter and Mich. £5. 2*s.* 10*d*; [issues] of messuages and burgages of escheat 29*s.* 9*d.*[2]; the abbot of Furneys for the tenements which were Michael Flemmyng's in Furneys, t. Mich. £10; rent of Ranulf de Dacre, heir of Benedict Gernet, formerly forester of Lancaster for the tenements formerly Benedict's in Halton t. Easter and Michaelmas, £5; of the farm of the forest of Lancaster for which Benedict Gernet used to pay £12 yearly, he does not answer here because the office of forester came into the hand of Edmund, late earl of Lancastre, by reason of trespass of the said Benedict, as he says, of the issues thereof the said John [de Lancastre] answers within; of the farm of Robert de Schirburne for his tenements in Hamulton which Geoffrey Arbalaster formerly held for which the said Robert used to pay 40*s.* yearly, he answers in the wapentake of Amounderness; of the rent of one sparrow hawk or 40*s.* yearly of the farm which William de Ferrers used to pay for his tenements between Ribbel and Meresee, he does not answer here, because he answers of the said lands and tenements at the larger sum in this account in the manor of Derby with other towns belonging to the said manor which were of the said William de Ferrers, and are now in the king's hand; of 22 fees, the 6th part and the 60th part of a fee in the said county of Lancastre in the custody of the said John, viz. of each fee 10*s.* [for ward of Lancaster castle],[3] £11. 1*s.* 10*d*; of 53 fees, a half, and a third part of a fee, residue of 76 fees which are required in this county, he does not answer, because 7 fees are in Blakeburnshire in the custody of William de Tatham, keeper of some of the lands and tenements of the rebels in the said county, and other fees, the residue are in Lincoln, Nottingham, Norfolk, Suffolk and other counties, as he says; rent of Middelton[4], 26*s.* 8*d*; rent of assize of a plat of land called

CXLIV. MARGARET RELICT OF THOMAS DE HAUTRIVE.

Inquest taken [before John de Lancaster, keeper of the king's lands in co. Lancaster] by William de Tatham and John de Middope before 22 August, 19 Edward II [1325], by the oath of the jury who say that [Thomas de Hautrive (de Alta Ripa) formerly the husband of Margaret late the wife of] [1] Thomas de Hautrive was seised in his demesne as of fee of the manor of Hapton on the day when he married Margaret and long afterwards so that he could dower her thereof, [and enfeoffed one Gilbert de la Leigh and his heirs who entered the same by virtue of that feoffment and was seised thereof until Henry de Lacy, earl of Lincoln, chief lord entered the same and afterwards enfeoffed Edmund Talbot and his heirs of the same to hold of the earl ; the said Edmund so seised by virtue of the said feoffment died seised but] by reason of the minority of John son and heir of Edmund Talbot, tenant by knight's service of the earl in name of wardship the manor came to the hands of the said earl and that after the the earl's death the executors of his will demised the custody of the manor to Robert de Holand Accounts of the issues of the lands of Robert de Holand from 6 December 20th year to Michaelmas following are preserved in L.T.R. Enrolled Accts., Miscel. no. 14, m. 30*d.* The various utensils recorded above in the manors of Hale, Hope, Holland and Woolton, and in Liverpool castle were still in John de Lancastre's charge, and he answered for them in the roll [? Pipe] of 13 Edward III, in Lancashire. Matilda, relict of Robert de Holand, was then answering for the issues of most of her late husband's estates.

during the heir's minority; that the manor was taken into the king's hands with other lands of the said Robert for certain causes and is thus in the king's hands, and that it is held of the king in chief by knight's service, [viz. by the fourth part of one knight's fee] and is worth yearly in all issues £9. 6*s*. 8*d*., and that Thomas de Hautrive died on Sunday after All Saints last and that Margaret is not dowered of the manor, therefore she has prayed the king to cause dower thereof to be assigned to her.

On 22 August, 1325, the king commanded the keeper of his lands in co. Lancaster to assign a third part of the manor to the said Margaret in accordance with the finding of the inquest. Cal. Close R., 1323-7, p. 397.

CXLV. HENRY DE SHUTTLEWORTH. Inq. p. m.

[TOWNELEY'S MSS., CHETHAM SOC., XCV, 152].

Inquest taken at Cliderow before John de Bolingbroke, escheator, on Tuesday the feast of St. Mary Magdalene, 20 Edward II [22 July, 1326] by the oath of Adam del Clogh, John de Winketlegh, Richard de Bradeley, Henry de Clayton of Harwood, John de Whalley, Richard del Tindiheved, Thomas de Dodehull, Roger Noell, Hugh del Haking, Henry del Ash, Adam de Worston, clerk, and Ralph de Reved, jurors, who say that Henry de Shuttleworth [1] held certain lands and tenements in Shuttleworth [in Hapton] of John Talbot son and heir of Edmund Talbot, under age and in ward of the king, by fealty and the service of 4*s*. and six barbed arrows; that there is a messuage there worth nothing yearly beyond repairs, 16*a*. of arable land, each acre worth 4*d*., sum 5*s*. 4*d*.; 4*a*. of meadow, each acre worth 4*d*, sum 16*d*; and 24*a*. of waste, each acre worth 2*d*, sum 4*s*; a cottage and 10*a*. of land in Symondston held in thegnage and by doing the sixth part of each suit at the three weeks' court of Cliderow for all service, each acre worth 4*d*., sum 3*s*. 4*d*; that John [2], son of the said Henry is his heir and of the age of 22 years and upwards.

CXLVI. JOAN RELICT OF WILLIAM DE HOLAND.

Writ of amoveas manus.

To John de Lancastria, keeper of the lands that belonged to Robert de Holand in co. Lancaster, in the king's hands. Order to amove the king's hand from a third of a messuage CXLVII. THOMAS EARL OF LANCASTER. Inq. p. m. [1 EDW. III, No. 88].

WRIT dated at Westminster, 5 February, 1st year (1327), directed to Simon de Grymesby, escheator beyond Trent [1].

Inquest taken before Simon de Grimmesby, escheator

[1] On 21 April 1327, the king took Henry of Lancaster's homage for his brother's lands and rendered the same to him. On 12 Feb., 1328, the treasurer and barons were directed to search the rolls and memoranda of the exchequer touching the account of the sheriffs of Lancaster and if they found that Edmund and Thomas, earls of Lancaster, had received beyond Trent, at Wygan, on Tuesday next after the feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 1 Edward III [17 March, 1327], by Peter de Burnhull, Gilbert de Haydok, Richard de Bolde, Robert le Grelle, John le Norreys, junior, Gilbert de Scaresbreck, Robert le Norreys, Richard le Waleys, Henry de Eltonheuede, Alan de Rixton, Alan de Eccliston, John de Trafford, Robert del Bothe, Robert, son of Geoffrey de Walton, John de la More of Lyverpoll, Adam the Clerk of the same, Robert son of Henry, Adam Baron, Richard de Walton, Robert de Anderton, Robert de Heskyn, William del Burgh, Henry de Dokesbure, and John de Eton, who say that Robert de Holand, about the space of seven years before the death of Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, entered into the castle and borough of Lyverpoll which are worth yearly in all issues £30. 10*s* ; and into the manor of Euerton worth yearly £4. 16*s* ; and into the manor of Great Crosseby worth yearly in all issues £7 ; and into the manor of Wavertre worth yearly in all issues £6. 9*s*. 4*d* ; and into the park of Toxstath worth yearly in all issues £11 ; and into the forest of Symondeswode worth yearly in all issues 66*s*. 8*d* ; and into the wapentake of Derby, and took the rents of all the free tenants in the same wapentake, with the perquisites of the same which are worth yearly in all issues £22. 15*s*. 5*d* ; and into the borough and wapentake of Salford, and took the rents of all the free tenants in the same wapentake, with the perquisites of the same which are worth yearly in all issues £29. 13*s* ; and made and appointed his bailiffs and ministers, and took all the profits and issues of the aforesaid castle, boroughs, manors, park, forest, and the rents of free tenants and others in the said wapentakes which Thomas, late earl of Lancaster used to take ; and bore himself as lord, until the death of the late earl ; but the said Robert showed no charter nor any other special deed under the name of the late earl of his gift or grant of the said castle, boroughs, manors, lands and tenements in those parts ; nor did the late earl personally or by his attorney deputed by his special deed in that behalf deliver seisin thereof to the said Robert ; and none of the free tenants in the wapentakes of Derby and Salford or elsewhere, by deed of assignment of the late earl or by his own proper deed ever attorned themselves to Robert de Holand of their homages or fealties.

all farms and issues of the county, excepting fines, amercements and forfeited issues, and had made sheriffs of that county and had presented them at the exchequer, they are to permit Henry to receive such fines, &c. and to make sheriffs as in the times of Edmund and Thomas. Cal. Close R. 1327-30, p. 257.

And thereupon, being asked whether or not the late earl died seised in his demesne as of fee of the said castle, boroughs, manors, lands and tenements, they say that they know not, and altogether refused to speak precisely upon this matter. And they say that the late earl, before Robert entered into the said castle and borough of Lyverpoll, manors, lands, tenements, forests, parks and wapentakes, held them with their appurtenances of Edward late king of England, father of the now king in chief, by the service of one goshawk; and that Henry, earl of Lancaster and Leicester, steward of England, is brother and next heir of the said Thomas, and of the age of 40 years and upwards.

Inquest taken before Simon de Grymesby &c. [Same place, date, and by the first 13 jurors as in the preceding inquest], who say that Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, was seised in his demesne as of fee of the castle of Lancaster with the rents of free tenants and the perquisites of the county and wapentake of Lonesdale, with the appurtenances worth yearly in all issues £75. 10*s*; and of the manor of Skerton worth yearly £21. 18*s*. 3½*d*; and of the manors of Slyne and Bolton worth yearly £16. 3*s*. 3*d*; and of the hamlet of Heste worth yearly £7. 9*s*. 4*d*; and of 21 vaccaries in Wyresdale worth yearly £19. 12*s*; and of the forest of Qwernemor worth yearly in herbage 40*s*; and of the park there worth in herbage yearly 40*s*; and of the rents of the borough of Preston, with the rents of freemen and perquisites of the wapentake of Amondernesse worth yearly £40. 8*s*. 5*d*.—except £10 which have been assigned by the earl to dame Margaret, formerly the wife of Adam Banastre in allowance for dower belonging to her from the lands and tenements of Adam in Beltesford co. Lincoln, and 13*s*. 4*d*. assigned to dame Agnes, formerly the wife of Henry du Lee in allowance for dower belonging to her from the lands and tenements of Henry in Ingol, co. Lanc.,—and of the forests of Mirschogh and Fulwode, with the parks of Hyde and Cadilegh, worth yearly £8; and of the herbage of four vaccaries in Blesedale worth yearly 60*s*; and of the manor of Syngilton worth yearly £20. 17*s*; and of the manor of Ryggeby worth yearly £22; the earl held the castle, manors, lands and tenements of Edward, late king of England father of the now king in chief by the service of one goshawk or 40*s*. yearly; and that Henry, earl of Lancaster and Leycestre, steward of England, is brother and next heir of Thomas, late earl, and is of the age of 40 years and upwards. CL. THE ABBOT OF KIRKSTALL.

Of puture in Barnoldswick.

To John Giffard, steward of Queen Isabella's lands this side Trent. Whereas Henry de Lacey, sometime lord of Blakeburnshire, granted by charter to God and Saint Mary, and to Alexander, then abbot of Kirkestall, and to the monks there the manor of Bernolveswyk, co. York, towards the foundation (in fundationem) of the said abbey, to hold in frankalmoin free and quit from all customs and worldly services, and the king lately, at the prosecution of the present abbot by petition before him and his council,—suggesting that although the manor is outside Queen Isabella's free chase of Blakeburnshire, nevertheless Richard de Merclesdon, her chief forester of that chase, and certain others of her ministers of that chase have exacted puture from the abbot on Friday in every week by reason of the said manor, endeavouring to charge him therewith, contrary to the tenor of the said charter—frequently ordered the aforesaid steward to cause the exaction of the puture aforesaid to be superseded if the manor is outside the said chase, or to certify the king if there was any reason why he should not obey these orders ; and the steward has returned amongst other things that although the manor is outside the said chase he dare not supersede the exaction of the puture without consulting the king and Queen Isabella, because he has enquired and learned from the said queen's ministers and by others that the aforesaid Richard and the other foresters aforesaid and their predecessors have been wont to receive the aforesaid puture from the abbot and his predecessors at the said manor from old time, to wit in the time and throughout the time when John de Lacy, sometime earl of Lincoln, Edmund his son, Henry son of Edmund, Thomas, late earl of Lancaster, the late king, and the present king, and Queen Isabella were successively lords of Blakeburnshire, as pertaining to the foresters aforesaid for the custody of the chase, and that the aforesaid Richard has the chief custody of the chase for the term of his life by the king's grant, but that he had not yet ascertained whether or not the foresters of the aforesaid John's ancestors in the chase were seised of the puture aforesaid, because he did not find any one living who remembered any lord of the chase before John's time: the king, not wishing to aggrieve the abbot, orders the steward to cause Richard and the other foresters to desist from the exaction of such puture from the abbot, notwithstanding the cause aforesaid, which is naught, and to release any distresses levied from the abbot for this reason. By pet. of C.

CLIV. THE ABBOT OF SHREWSBURY.

Writ of amoveas manus.

To John de Bolyngbrok, escheator beyond Trent. Order to amove the king's hand from the land, fishery, and rent in Wolston specified below, and to permit the abbot of Shrewsbury to hold them without hindrance, and to restore to him any issues received therefrom, as the escheator has returned to the king that he did not take into the kings's hands a rent of 20*s.* and a tithe of sheaves of the abbot in Wolston, but that Simon de Grymesby, late escheator beyond Trent, delivered to him, at the time of his appointment, by indenture a plot of land called 'Wyldegrene' containing a carucate of land, a fishery in Mersee, and 20*s.* of rent from the manor of Wolston, co. Lancaster, asserting that they were in the king's hands because one of the king's progenitors gave the land, fishery, and rent to a certain abbot of Shrewsbury, in order to find a monk celebrating divine service in the chapel of Wyldegrene for the souls of the kings of England, and that the present abbot withdrew the said chantry, and that the tenements are still in the king's hands for this cause, and the king is given to understand by the abbot that he and his predecessors from time out of mind held the land, fishery, and rent of the gift of Ranulph, sometime earl of Chester, quit and discharged of all service and exaction, and he exhibited the earl's charter to this effect in chancery.

CLXVII. ADAM DE CLIDERHOU.

[CORAM REGE R., NO 293, M. 54. PLEAS BEFORE THE KING AT YORK, TRINITY T. 7 EDW. III (1333).]

PRECEPT to the sheriff to cause all the goods and chattels of Adam de Cliderhou to the value of 20 marks, to be made by reasonable appraisement, except his plough oxen and horses, to be delivered to Robert de Cliderhou, clerk, or his attorney, which Adam the 8 August, 10 Edward II [1316], in chancery acknowledged that he owed to Robert, and which he ought to have paid him on the feast of Assumption of the B.V.M. then next to come, and has not yet paid ; and if those chattels should not suffice, then to cause them and also a moiety of Adam's land in his bailiwick, by extent to be made in his presence, to be delivered to Robert, to hold as his free tenement until the debt be levied. And the sheriff returned that Adam had no goods or chattels in his bailiwick, but by virtue of the writ he delivered a moiety of Adam's land to Robert, as appears by the extent as follows—

Extent of the land of Adam de Cliderhou made at Preston in Aumundernesse on Saturday next after the feast of Holy Trinity, 7 Edward III [5 June, 1333], by John de Wynkedelegh, Willlam de Osbaldeston, John son of Henry de Blakeburn of Walton, John de Glendon, Alan de Kenyan, Richard Banastre of Wryghtington, Adam le Tannour of Cophill, Warin de Heskyn, Adam de Blakeburn of Aumundernesse, John son of William de Cotum, John son of John de Rediford, and Thomas son of David, who say on their oath that Adam de Cliderhou [holds] in Blakeburneshire in the hands of tenants land to the value of £5 by the year, whereof John de Clayton holds 30 acres of land and renders by the year 20*s.* at Martinmas ; Reginald de Whallay holds 20*a.* and renders 20*s.* at the same term ; John de Standenne the younger, 30*a.* and renders 20*s.* at the same t. ; Adam Morleghmon 30*a.* and renders 26*s.* 8*d.* at the same t. ; Robert le Barker 16*a.* and renders 13*s.* 4*d.* at the same t. Adam has land in the town of Cliderhou, in the hands of tenants, which is worth by the year £5 whereof Alice who was the wife of William de Brunlay holds a messuage and 2*a.* of land, and renders by the year at Martinmas and Pentecost 10*s.* ; Christiana de Clayton holds a mess. and 1*a.* and renders 7*s.* at the same t. ; Robert de Whytenay a mess. and 3*a.*. 10*s.* ; Henry the Clerk a mess., 10*s.*, Robert Querderay 5*a.*, 6*s.* 8*d.* ; Robert le Ferrour a mess., 5*s.* ; William Whetelay a mess., 5*s.* ; Henry de Cliderhou a mess., 2*s.* ; John son of Gilbert de Bradhull a mess., 2*s.* ; John son of William Wyldebor a mess., 2*s.* ; John de Clayton a meadow called 'Crymbel', 5*s.* Adam de Clyderhou has a meadow in his hand worth by the year 11*s.*, Adam Acris holds a mess. and renders 4*d.* at Michaelmas, William le Taillour holds 2*a.* of land and renders 4*s.* at Martinmas ; John Dykessone 2*a.*, 4*s.* at the same t. ; Richard Coln a mess., 7*s.* at Martinmas and Pentecost. Adam de Cliderhou holds land in his hand worth by the year 8*s.* He has land in the town of Oswaldestwysel, in the hand of Adam de Hauworth, for which he renders by the year at the feast of St. Giles the abbot 10*s.*

[Ibid. m. 52*d.*]

Whereas the king several times commanded the sheriff of Lancaster that he cause to be replevied to Robert de Cliderhou, clerk, his chattels which Adam de Cliderhou, chivaler, took and unjustly detains as he says, or that he signify to the king wherefore he would not or could not execute the king's mandate, and the same sheriff, spurning the mandates as the king has heard, did not take care to replevy to Robert his chattels or to signify the cause, to the manifest contempt of the king. Wherefore the king commanded the sheriff to replevy (as above), or be before the king at three weeks from Easter Day last past. The sheriff at that day returned to the king that he was not able to replevy the chattels because he could not have a view thereof; which return the king considered insufficient because in it he made no mention what chattels belonging to Robert were taken by Adam nor how or where they were detained or eloigned, so that he could not have a view thereof.

The sheriff returned to the king on the quindene of Holy Trinity, that Adam de Cliderhou, chivaler, on Monday the morrow of Holy Trinity, 6 Edward III [15 June, 1332] at the manor of Robert de Cliderhou, clerk, of Bayleye, took, abducted and carried away 11 oxen at 1 mark each; 3 cows at 10*s.* each; 1 young ox and 2 heifers at 5*s.* each; 3 stirks at 3*s.* each; 1 calf at 18*d.*; 1 horse (affer) at 10*s.*; 2 quarters of barley worth 12*s.*; 10 quarters of oats at 40*d.* the quarter; 2 bacons, 8*s.*; 1 carcase and a quarter of salt beef, 10*s.*; 3 stones of onions, 3*s.*; 4 great 'stockefissh', and in salt-fish, 2*s.* 11*d.*; 8 score herrings, 10*d.*; 3 brass pots, one at 16*s.*, another 4*s.*, and the third 12*d.*; 2 brasspots 10*s.*; 1 little brass plate 6*d.*; 1 basin with a laver, half a mark; 1 brass morter with an iron 'phile', half a mark; 2 axes & 2 'hachet', 10*d.*, 1 'touell', 2*s.*; 1 'wyndoushete and canevace' for winnowing corn, 4*s.*; 1 'friyngpan' and one 'rosteyrne' of iron, 2*s.*; 1 'dorsale', 10*s.*; 2 carpets (tapel), half a mark; 1 'bannquer', 12*d.*; 6 'quiscines', 3*s.*; 1 'curtyn' and 2 'canevaces' for the lord's bed, 4*s.* 10*d.*; 1 crossbow (balista) with 16 quarrels, 2*s.*; 1 waggon with all its appendages, 40*d.*; 2 ploughs with ironworks, 2*s.*; 2 iron 'saghes', 2*s.*; 1 'resting-wymbel'; 1 great iron hammer; 2 small iron hammers; 1 iron 'grouell'; 2 'mattoks'; 2 'pickes' and one pikefork, 18 [d.]; 1 pound of resin (risini), which is called 'le Rose', 10 marks; 1 pound of resin which is called 'ipomadon', 20*s.*; 1 pound of resin, which is called 'Athis and prophilias', 20*s.*; 1 pound of resin which is called 'Isope', 1 mark; 1 pound, which is called 'Londarie' 40*s.*; 1 pound of resin, which is called

CLXVIII. RICHARD DE FRECKLETON.

[HENRY III, No. 33, De annis incertis.]

No writ attached.

Inquest made in full county [court] by the King's precept concerning those who possess 15 librates of land in co. Lancaster, and hold by knight's service, whose names the sheriff of Lancaster has not sent to the King, by the oath of Robert de Rediche, William de Pres, William le Noreys, Warin de Waleton, Adam de Rokesby, Richard de Travers, Adam de Westeley, Adam de Bikerstad, Adam de Hocton, Adam son of Adam de Blakeburne, Adam de Midelton and Henry de Hest, who say that Richard de Frekelton holds a knight's fee, but his ancestors enfeoffed many persons of a portion of that fee, so that the residue which he now holds is not worth £15 per annum. They also say that they do not know of any persons in co. Lancaster, who have 15 librates of land and hold by knight's service besides those whose names the sheriff sent to the King.[1]

CLXIX. ELLEN, WIDOW OF ROBERT, SON OF RALPH DE SIDGREAVES.

[22 EDW. I, No. 86, AND 23 EDW. I, No. 110.]

WRIT dated at Ipswich (apud Gippeswycum) 25 March, 22nd year (1294), directed to the sheriff of Lancaster, as follows. Elen widow of Robert son of Ralph de Sidegreves has shown us that when the said Robert, lately her husband, was convicted of felony before our justices appointed to gaol delivery at Lancaster, viz. Robert de Holand and Roger de Burton, and was subsequently hanged, you by reason of the said felony did take into our hands one messuage and 4 acres of land with appts. in the (sic) Lee, which were the said Elen's inheritance, the which you still unjustly (minus juste) detain, &c. And whereas we wish to be certified upon the premises and to do justice to the said Elen in this behalf, command you, in company with the said Robert de Holand, to make diligent enquiry, &c. if that messuage and land are the inheritance of the said Elen, or not.

Inquest made at Preston, on Monday next before Whitsunday, 22 Edward I [30 May, 1294] by the oath of William de Brocholes, William de Aston, John de Grimesarche, John son of Bimme de Quitingham, William de Staynol, William son of Roger son of Auward de Preston, Roger son of Marjorie de Ecleston, Gilbert de Billesburhe, Adam de Fiswik, William de Chernoc of Lee, Thomas son of Agnes de Lee, and Richard de Neusum, who say that William Picard of Lee gave a messuage and 4 acres of land in the town of Lee to Elen his daughter in her pure virginity; and the said messuage and land were taken into the king's hand for no other reason but because Robert de Sidegrevevs formerly her husband was hanged.

Another writ dated at Westminster 11 November, 22 Edw. I.

Inquest made at Preston, on Saturday next before the feast of Ash Wednesday (Carniprivii), 23 Edward I [18 February, 1295], before the sheriff of Lancaster and Robert de Holand, by the oath of John de Rediford, Roger de Etheleston, John de Grymeshargh, Robert de Eccleston, Alexander de Gosenargh, Roger de Billesburgh, William de Aston, John de Quytingham, William de Erlesgate, William de Brocholes, William de Ellale, and Paulin de Etheleston, who say that the messuage and land [named in the writ,] are of the inheritance of the said Elen, and that she was seised thereof at the time that her said husband committed felony.

WRIT dated 2 Dec. 30 Edw. I [1301] to the sheriff of Lanc. to inquire whether one messuage, 24 acres of land, 4 acres of meadow, and 50 acres of pasture in Wythenell [Withnell] which Hugh de Bromicroft, who was outlawed for a felony, held, were in the King's hand for a year and a day, or not, and of whom they are held.

Inquest taken at Preston on Sat. the feast of the Epiphany 30 Edw. I [6 Jan. 1301-2] by John de Faryngton, Henry de Becaneshou, Henry de Whalley, William de Hoton, Adam de Hogwyke, Thomas Bussel, Roger de Faryngton, Richard de Kerden, Roger son of Roger of the same, Adam son of Alan of the same, Adam de Rydleys, John son of Elias de Kerden, and Richard de Wythenell. Who say on their oath that the King had his year and a day in respect of the tenements contained in the writ. They also say that Hugh de Bromicroft held the said tenements of Adam, son of Adam de Hoghton, brother of Richard de Hoghton, whose heir he is. And that the said Hugh was outlawed before Hugh de Gressingham and his fellow justices in eyre in co. Lanc. in the 20th year of the said King. They also say that the township of Wythenill holds the said tenements and shall answer to the King from year to year. And the said tenements are extended at 10*s*. before Ralph de Monjoye, then sheriff of the said county.

RULES

1. That the Society shall be called the RECORD SOCIETY, and shall have for its object the transcribing and publishing of Original Documents relating to the Counties of Lancaster and Chester.

2. That the affairs of the Society shall be governed by a Council consisting of a President and twelve Members, the former of whom shall be annually elected by the Council.

3. That three Members of the Council shall form a quorum.

4. That the subscription of Members of the Society shall be £1, 1s. per annum, which shall entitle them to the publications for the year; but any Member whose subscription shall be two years in arrear shall thereupon be removed from the Society, and shall not be re-admitted until all arrears have been paid. The number of Members is limited to 350.

5. That the subscriptions shall be due in advance on the 30th of June in each year, and that no work shall be issued to any Member whose subscription is in arrear.

6. That an Annual Meeting of the Society shall be held in the month of October, of which due notice shall be sent to all the Members. At this meeting a Report of the work of the Society, with a Statement of the Income and Expenditure, shall be presented. These shall be annually published, together with a List of Members and the Rules of the Society.

7. That so long as the funds of the Society permit, two volumes at least shall be issued to the Members in each year.

8. That no copies of the publications of the Society shall be sold to non-members, except at an increased price to be fixed by the Council.

9. That no payment shall be made to any person for editing any work for the Society, but that the Editor of each Volume shall be entitled to twenty copies of the work so edited by him.

10. That the Treasurer's Accounts shall be audited by two Members of the Society, who shall be elected at the Annual Meeting.

11. No alteration shall be made in any of the above Rules except at the Annual General Meeting. Notice of any proposed alterations must be sent to the Hon. Secretary a month before such General Meeting.

12. That a meeting of the Council of the Society shall be called by the Hon. Secretary at least once in every three months.

The Annual Subscription of £1, 1s., entitling the Members to all the Volumes issued for that year, may be paid to the Hon. Treasurer, or to the credit of the Society at their Bankers, the Manchester and Liverpool District Banking Company, Limited, at any of their branches.

RECORD SOCIETY—LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE

REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1905–6

Read at the Annual Meeting held in the Audit Room of Chetham Hospital, Manchester, 6th November 1906.

SINCE the Annual Meeting, held on the 24th October 1905, two volumes have been issued to the Members. The first of these, Volume 51, is the first part of the list of men admitted to the Freedom of the City of Chester from 1392 to 1805, and has been edited by Mr. J. H. E. Bennett. This volume brings the Rolls down to 1700, and it is hoped to print in a subsequent volume the remainder, together with a complete index. Volume 52 is a miscellaneous one, including (a) an Index to the Wills relating to Lancashire and Cheshire for the period 1595–1665, recently found at the Probate Registry, Chester, (b) an Index to the Wills and Inventories remaining in the Bishop's Registry at Chester, 1701–1800, and (c) the Hearth Tax Returns for the City of Chester for the year 1663. This volume of Miscellanies has been edited by the Honorary Secretary.

The Council desire to place on record their appreciation of the generosity of two Members, Mr. F. C. Beazley, who presented the transcript of the Hearth Tax Returns, and Mr. J. H. E. Bennett, who presented his transcript of the Freemen Rolls.

For the current year two volumes are already in the printer's hands. The first is the fifth volume of the Royalist Composition Papers of Lancashire, and this will be edited, as have been the former volumes of the series, by the Rev. Canon Stanning, and will cover the names running from the letter "P" to "R."

The second volume will be the transcript (recently acquired by the Society) of the Marriage Licenses for the diocese of Chester beginning in the year 1606, which include all licenses issued to persons living in Cheshire and in Lancashire, south of the Ribble. This volume is being edited by the Honorary Secretary.

The second volume of Lancashire Inquests and Feudal Aids, kindly offered by Mr. Farrer, is also now ready, and will go to press within the course of the next few weeks. Mr. Farrer has again generously presented the transcript of this interesting volume to the Society.

The transcript of the Cheshire Visitation for 1613 is in the hands of Mr. J. Paul Rylands, and it is hoped will be printed in the near future.

The number of paying members of the Society has fallen to 162, the smallest number since the foundation of the Society.

The following is a list of some of the volumes which are now in progress, and which it is hoped to print shortly :—

Lancashire Inquests and Feudal Aids, 1307–1346. Part II. By William Farrer.

Freemen Rolls of the City of Chester, 1700–1805. Part II. By J. H. E. Bennett.

The Visitation of Cheshire, 1613. By Sir George J. Armytage, Bart., and J. Paul Rylands.

The Chartulary of St. Werburgh's Abbey, Chester. By F. M. Powicke.

Lancashire Plea Rolls, 1500–1536. Part I. By Colonel Parker.

Lancashire Final Concords. Part IV. By William Farrer.
